

Plane Helps Ships Battle Ice Jams On Lake Superior

(By The Associated Press)

The U. S. Coast Guard flew in the aid of ice-delayed shipping on the upper Great Lakes today. A PBV plane scouted the ice fields of Lake Superior as a stalled fleet of freighters waited to move out with the 1950 season's first iron ore cargoes.

Ice-laden Lake Superior is the major problem in the way of a full start for the new season, already weeks behind normal re-opening time.

After the freeing of half a dozen ships, the St. Marys river at the Soo was open again.

Uncertain weather, however, continued to slow up progress in the effort to clear all shipping lanes. Intermittent snow storms hit the Superior area Wednesday.

Vessels were ordered not to proceed into Whitefish Bay until further examination of conditions. Whitefish Bay, the entrance to Lake Superior for upbound ships, has reported unusually heavy ice.

The ice delays the departure of seven freighters ready to pick up iron ore cargoes and move down-bound from the two harbors (Minn.) port.

A plane was sent across Lake Superior Wednesday from the Coast Guard air base at Traverse City to assist the freighters from the head of the lakes to the Soo. Piloted by Commander W. J. Lawrence, senior aviator of the unit, the PBV aircraft is going to make twice daily flights to locate shipping lanes and report on ice fields.

The icebreaker Mackinaw, now at Duluth, scheduled a preliminary run through the ice fields today.

Mystery Baby Left At Flint

FLINT, Mich. — (P) — Hurley hospital here has a "mystery baby." It's a four and one-half pound boy.

A woman who said she was the mother brought the baby to the hospital April 1. She said the baby was born prematurely three days before. Another Flint hospital, she said, had referred her to Hurley as the only hospital equipped to handle such children.

The woman's story sounded plausible enough. She gave all the information required by hospitals in such cases. She paid $10 to start the care of the child, left a small suitcase of baby clothes and gave the impression she would return. Hospital attendants neatly filled out a card for the little guest from this information supplied by the woman.

Baby's name, David Rhoades, named after father; mother's name, Margaret Rhoades; the father, an employee of Ford Motor Company in Dearborn. A Flint address and telephone number were filled in.

But the woman failed to return and the hospital began making inquiries. None of the information checked. The woman had given the name of a Mt. Morris doctor as the one who delivered the baby, but he reported he knew nothing about the birth.

Houghton, Marquette Offered State Aid On Pollution Problems

LANSING — (P) — The state building division today contacted the cities of Kalamazoo, Marquette, Mt. Pleasant and Houghton, offering to cooperate with local pollution control programs.

All four cities, after pressure from the state water resource commission, have started plans for sewage disposal plants to end the pollution of local streams and lakes.

Kalamazoo has Western Michigan college and the Kalamazoo State hospital adding to the local sewage load. Marquette has the branch prison there and the Northern Michigan College of Education. Mt. Pleasant has Central Michigan College of Education and the state home and training school. Houghton has the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.

Tito Seeks Closer Accord With Greece, Italy And Austria

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (P) — Premier Marshall Tito announced today Yugoslavia is ready to resume diplomatic relations with Greece and will nominate a diplomatic envoy within a few days.

The Premier made this known in a remarkable state-of-the-nation address to his new parliament in which he expressed hope for better relations not only with Greece but with Italy and Austria.

At one time Yugoslavia was accused in the United Nations of aiding and abetting the Greek Communist rebellion, along with Bulgaria and Albania. Since Tito was expelled from the Moscow-led cominform as a strayer from Leninism, Yugoslavia's relations with Greece bettered.

Wind Topples Wall, Buries Five Workmen

WELLSBURG, W. Va. — (P) — High winds toppled part of a high wall of freshly laid concrete blocks yesterday, burying five workmen in a heap of rubble at its base. Two of them died, and the other three were injured critically.

Four of the workers were on a scaffold 42 feet high when a strong gust blew over the top six feet of the six-inch thick blocks forming the screen backing for a new drive-in theater.

The fifth was unloading a truck at the foot of the wall.

Torch-Killer Jailed

DETROIT — (P) — David Brantley, 33, Negro, was sentenced in recorder's court Wednesday to 25 to 40 years in prison for the torch slaying of a neighbor.

He was convicted of throwing gasoline on Leo Mack, 49, another Negro, and setting him afire. Mack died December of burns.

LOOK OUT BELOW—The fish in Green Lake at Seattle, Wash., will do well to be on their guard. Armed with a tree branch, a long string, bent pin and a worm supply handed by a capable assistant, five-year-old Robert Morrison is out to fill his Mom's frying pan. Helper is Susan Murphy, age 3. Fishing in the lake is restricted to children only.

Draft Law Again Worries Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (P) — The draft law, always a sore point in peacetime, is worrying Congress again.

The present law, permitting the government to draft men 19 through 26, was passed in June, 1948.

Under this law only 37,000 men were drafted. None has been drafted since January, 1949. But the Selective Service system is all set up.

Machinery Still There

And there are 3,700 local draft boards — or Selective Service boards — around the country manned by 38,000 volunteer civilians.

So, even though no one has been drafted, the machinery is there and drafting could begin in a moment in an emergency.

But — this law ends this June unless Congress votes to continue it. The problem Congress faces is this:

1. Since there seems to be no immediate need for drafting anyone, why let the government have the power of drafting a man any time it wishes?

2. Or, since no one seems likely to be drafted in the foreseeable future, why not keep the law so the government can act fast if necessary?

President Truman's advisers, when Congress began considering the problem this year, favored keeping the law as it is.

Vinson Changes Mind

This ran into opposition in Congress and from civilian groups. Then came a proposal from Rep. Vinson, Georgia Democrat.

He's chairman of the House Armed Services committee whose job it is to examine the problem and then recommend how the full House should vote.

That makes Vinson an important man in the argument. Vinson made this proposal:

Keep a kind of draft law — that is, keep intact a Selective Service system which could swing into action — but take away the government's power to draft anyone.

That means that the draft machinery would be there but no one could be drafted unless Congress passed another law — say in an emergency — giving the government special power to draft.

That's what Vinson had been mulling over. But yesterday he changed his mind.

Because of "present world conditions," he said, he thinks now the present law should be continued as is for another two years.

Nevertheless, all this still is only in the talking stage. Neither the full Senate nor House has voted yet. Until both do, we won't know the fate of the draft law. That will be some weeks from now.

Chicago Plans Huge Loyalty Day Parade

CHICAGO — (P) — Chicago's first Loyalty Day Parade, designed to counteract any May Day demonstrations by Communist groups, is planned for Saturday.

Some 25,000 persons are expected to take part in the parade on Michigan avenue in the downtown district. David H. Caplow, Cook County commander of the veterans of foreign wars, is parade chairman. He said military units and bands from veterans organizations, high schools and the police department will be prominent in the parade by Chicago residents.

German Policemen Study In East Lansing

EAST LANSING — (P) — Twelve German policemen arrived at Michigan State College Wednesday to begin four months of study in the United States.

Classroom instructions will begin Monday for the men. They will spend their first month at Michigan State and then spend three months traveling on inspection tours of outstanding police departments and court systems of the nation.

Soviet Propaganda Makes Iran A Hot Front In Cold War

By STANLEY SWINTON

TEHRAN, Iran — (P) — A pepped up Soviet propaganda offensive has once more made Iran a hot front in the cold war.

The "Free Azerbaijan Radio," operating from inside the Soviet Union, is spearheading the campaign against the neighboring Iranian government. The new broadcast line started about 10 weeks ago and has been mounting steadily in violence, even inciting Iranians to revolt.

Before that the Soviets, for a long period, had tempered their propaganda campaign against Iran in an apparent attempt to improve relations with their oil-rich southern neighbor.

A recent Washington dispatch said U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was deeply concerned over alarming reports reaching him from the American Ambassador to Tehran, John C. Wiley. The Communist campaign, state department experts said, has been helped greatly by economic troubles following last year's cereal crop failure in Iran.

A U. S. survey mission soon may be sent to recommend aid for this strategic middle east country on the eastern end of the anti-Communist Cordons.

Reports of radio monitors here show these four consistent propaganda themes in Soviet broadcasts beamed this way:

1. An attempt to blame United States "intervention" for Iran's economic depression.

2. Persistent charges that the U. S. is turning the Iranian army into an "American stooge."

3. An attempt to picture the Shah — hitherto usually exempt from Soviet attacks — as under American influence.

4. An effort to picture the Iranian government as so corrupt it should be overthrown.

Accompanying these attacks are paeans of praise for the outlawed Tudeh (Communist) party, whose growth since economic depression began here has western diplomats openly worried.

Radio Moscow is echoing the attacks from radio Azerbaijan — but in more temperate language.

Simultaneously Soviet diplomats here are trying to get Iran to close down the U. S. Information Service's bulletin published in the Persian language here.

No Quick Peace In Rail Dispute

CHICAGO — (P) — Prospects for a quick peace appeared dim today as talks began in a new effort to avert a major railroad strike.

Railroad and union officials were summoned to a government arranged conference to settle a dispute which almost led to a strike yesterday on four major lines.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen postponed its strike call to May 10 to permit new negotiations between union and carrier representatives. The dispute has been going on for years.

The strike issue is the union's demand that the railroads hire an additional fireman for multiple unit diesel locomotives. The engines now are operated by one engineer and one fireman.

The union contends an extra man is needed for safety. The railroads say another fireman would be unnecessary. Two fact-finding boards named by the White House have held that present crews are ample.

Airport At Kinross Now Equipped For Instrument Landings

SAULT STE. MARIE — (P) — Kinross airport, 17 miles south of the Sault, became an all-weather airport with the final approval this week of an instrument landing system, installed by the Civil Aeronautics authority.

Radio and electronic engineers of the CAA have been working since last fall installing the ILS equipment. After a number of test flights and landings the CAA authorized the system for operation this week.

Violations Increase

LANSING — (P) — Conservation law violations increased to 222 in March compared to 157 in February, the state conservation department said today.

Fishing without a license topped the list of violations.

EX-RED IS WITNESS — Dr. Bella V. Dodd, of New York, a former Communist, expelled from the party last year, was subpoenaed to testify in Washington, along with Louis Budenz, on Sen. Joseph McCarthy's charges against Owen Lattimore. Miss Dodd was called at the request of Lattimore's attorneys in an effort to refute Budenz's charges that he considered Lattimore a member of a Communist cell.

Accompanying these attacks are paeans of praise for the outlawed Tudeh (Communist) party, whose growth since economic depression began here has western diplomats openly worried.

Radio Moscow is echoing the attacks from radio Azerbaijan — but in more temperate language.

Simultaneously Soviet diplomats here are trying to get Iran to close down the U. S. Information Service's bulletin published in the Persian language here.

Defense Budget Builds Up Fast

By WILLIAM ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON — (P) — The tensing international situation brought added force today to demands for new defense funds and extension of the draft law. It all but shelved the House economy drive.

In response to the request of Secretary of Defense Johnson, the House was resigned to vote an extra $350,000,000 for military spending, most of it for airplanes.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the appropriations committee announced committee approval of an amendment that would hike the defense budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 from the $13,911,000,000 recommended last month by the committee to $14,261,000,000.

The extra $350,000,000 was approved after Johnson testified before a subcommittee yesterday.

It would be split up this way: $200,000,000 for the air force; $100,000,000 for naval air $50,000,000 for conversion of warships and for the anti-submarine warfare program.

Sleeping Baby Killed By Sitter's Friends Fooling With Shotgun

PITTSFIELD, Mass. — (P) — One of a young baby sitter's three boy friends accidentally killed a sleeping three-year-old child while playing with a shotgun last night.

Police Chief Thomas Calnan said the blast "nearly blew off the head" of Jane Ellen Fowler as she lay in her crib.

The 15-year-old sitter and the three boys — two of whom were 15 and the other 16 — all were hysterical and were held for questioning. No charges were placed against them. Their names were withheld.

The shotgun, the chief said, belonged to the baby's father, Linwood W. Fowler, a General Electric Company employee. Fowler was at work and his wife, a nurse, was on duty at St. Luke's hospital.

Spring Brings Snow In Lower Michigan

By The Associated Press

It snowed all over Michigan today — April 27, spring 1950 — and chances are it'll go right on snowing into tomorrow.

Flint and Battle Creek got overnight falls of three inches. Grand Marais and Houghton, in the far north, got a couple each, and southern Jackson and Lansing the same.

A forenoon mixture of rain and snow slushed things up in the Detroit area and appeared certain to cancel a scheduled Detroit-Cleveland baseball game.

Weathermen blamed two cold air masses moving in from Canada and churning up the warm air over Michigan.

Autos Kill Deer

ST. IGNACE, Mich. — (P) — Nearly 20 deer have been killed by automobiles in Mackinac county during the past several days, according to president George Michalka of the Mackinac Conservation club. He blames the highway department for not erecting "deer caution" signs on highway US-2.

Mackinac Span Is Opposed By Senate Leader

Vandenberg Irked By Pressure Tactics

LANSING — (P) — A long-smoldering feud over constructing a Mackinac Straits bridge flared up widely in the legislature yesterday.

Legislative proponents of the proposal appeared to be trying to circumvent or overcome the opposition of Senator William C. Vandenberg (R-Holland), chairman of the senate state affairs committee, which has two bills on the subject in its files.

Three Proposals Ready

Vandenberg took the floor in the senate yesterday to object to "tremendous pressure" from the bridge supporters for a hearing on the bills. The committee, he said, "will deal with this matter in due time and in a manner which we believe to be proper."

Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) had introduced in the house a third bill on the subject, and Vandenberg himself was preparing a fourth version.

Knox's bill appeared to be a move to move to by-pass Vandenberg's committee. It was sent to the house roads and bridges committee, apparently on the theory that, if passed and sent to the senate, it could go to a more friendly committee in that chamber.

Ellsworth Backs Up

Thus the legislature had three plans before it:

1—The Williams administration-citizens' committee bill to create a bridge authority appointed by the governor with power to study the bridge plan and to build a bridge if it is deemed practical. The governor and the state highway commissioner would be advisory members of the authority.

2—The bill introduced by and later disavowed by Senator William A. Ellsworth (R-St. Ignace) to let the governor appoint half the authority and the highway

Siam Ruler And Bride Get Radio-Phonograph Present From Truman

BANGKOK, Thailand — (P) — Siam's king and his bride-to-be got a set of dishes and a radio-phonograph from Britain's King George and President Truman today.

King Phumiphon and Princess Sirikit will be married Friday morning at a private ceremony.

Mr. Truman sent the radio-phonograph, which boasts the latest electronic features. The king is a gifted musician and a mutual love of music helped bring him and the Princess together.

U. S. Ambassador Edwin F. Stanton made the presentation at an audience with the King.

Pigeon Follows Mail

BUCHANAN — (P) — A pigeon has taken an interest in helping the mail get through in this Berrien county city. Two weeks ago a tame pigeon named "Pige" saw postman Richard Furner trudging along his route and decided to accompany him, riding part of the time on his shoulder. He's been doing it ever since. Furner delivers "Pige" to his owner, R. A. Watson, each evening.

British Regime In Shaky Seat

By CHARLES WHITING

LONDON — (P) — Britain's labor government is expected now to cling to its shaky seat at least until fall.

But yesterday's five-vote victory in a test vote in the House of Commons proved the going will not be easy. Continued heckling by Winston Churchill's conservatives and the liberals, will keep Prime Minister Attlee's laborites under constant pressure.

The laborites squeaked through votes on two major issues in the House of Commons yesterday with a majority of only five in each case. These two votes — on coupling the tax on gasoline and imposing a 33 1-3 percent purchase tax on trucks — constituted the most serious challenge labor has faced since it came to power in 1945. Its once overwhelming majority in commons has been sliced to a scant eight seats.

Despite traditional labor opposition to coalition government, except in wartime, talk persists of some form of a national coalition cabinet if the political deadlock continues.

Governor Criticized For Crimping Powers Of State Legislature

LANSING — (P) — Rep. Eugene C. Betz (R-Monroe) yesterday lashed out at Governor Williams for "usurping the prerogatives" of the legislature by stringent limitation of the special session.

"No other governor, regardless of party," he said in a prepared statement, "has ever attempted to go that far. It seems to me very presumptuous for any chief executive to assume that his way is the only correct way."

Betz also said the governor's proposed corporations profits tax, despite the governor's protestations, would eventually come out of the pockets of the people.

Dwellings Vacant

DETROIT — (P) — The Bureau of Labor statistics reported today that 1.6 per cent of the estimated 707,000 dwelling units in the Detroit area are vacant. These include 0.5 per cent for rent, 0.5 for sale and 0.6 per cent unoccupied for other reasons. The area included the cities of Mt. Clemens, Royal Oak and Dearborn.

Co-Sort Garage Burns At Rock

Concrete Building Will Be Erected

ROCK, Mich.—Fire gutted the frame garage building of the Rock Co-operative here late Wednesday afternoon, causing a loss estimated at $20,000.

The loss is covered by insurance, and officers of the co-operative announced plans to rebuild a larger garage and salesroom building of concrete at a cost of about $30,000.

Emil Seppala, mechanic, was doing some grinding on an emery wheel when sparks ignited some gasoline-soaked materials nearby. He was uninjured.

Lost in the blaze were valuable tools and equipment, two automobiles, a truck and tractor. The automobiles were a 1951 Frazier owned by Julius Sinnavee and a 1946 Chevrolet, the property of William Lehto. The truck was owned by Osmo Aalto and the tractor by John Selin. The top of a Model A Ford, owned by John Jokela, was damaged.

The garage building, 75 by 40 feet, was built by the co-operative about twenty years ago. Firemen and equipment from the Gladstone, Perkins and Rock departments responded to the call for help, and kept the blaze well confined to the garage. The flames were prevented from spreading to the nearby warehouse, store and dwellings.

The fire began about 4:15 p. m. and was extinguished by 7 p. m.

Trout Season Outlook Poor; Planting Delayed

Continued cold weather with rains and snow have made trout stream conditions worse in the Delta county area and darkened prospects for the trout season opening on Saturday, April 29.

Bad weather and bad roads have also slowed the Michigan conservation department's trout planting program, making it impossible to complete planting before the season opens.

A total of between 250,000 and 300,000 legal-sized brook and brown trout will be planted in the Upper Peninsula this spring.

Planting Slow Here
Clifford Long of Escanaba, fisheries supervisor for the conservation department in the Delta-Marquette-Alger district, reported that pre-season planting has been well started in Marquette and Alger counties but has been delayed in Delta.

About 6,000 brown trout, approximately the same as last year, and between 5,000 and 6,000 brook trout will be planted in Delta county.

Water Too High
The legal-sized trout, seven inches or more in length, come from the state fish hatchery at Thompson for planting in Delta county streams. Those planted in Marquette and Alger counties come from the hatchery at Marquette.

"We have to guard against planting the trout too early when the water is too high," Long pointed out. "There is the possibility the trout might get into backwater areas and be stranded when the water went down."

Brown trout will be planted in Delta county mainly in the Escanaba, Sturgeon, and Fish Dam rivers. Brook trout will be planted in a number of streams, including Baker, Chippeny, Haymeadow, Hock, Johnson, Mormon, and 18-Mile creeks; Days, north branch of the Ogontz, and Whitefish rivers.

Conditions Poor
There is but one trout lake in Delta county, Norway lake, located in the northeast corner of the county. Fishing there has been none too good in the past, and it is still covered with rotting and unsafe ice.

Prospects generally are poor for the season opening Saturday, trout fishermen were told. Water levels that were declining shot back up to flood stage again following the recent rain and snowfall. Water temperatures were low and in some places streams were choked by ice.

Upper Peninsula back roads are in poor shape. This will hamper fishermen in getting to their favorite streams and has delayed the pre-season program of planting legal-sized trout.

Two saxophone quartets from Escanaba also are entered.

Pheasant Walks In At Shotgun Store

JACKSON, Mich.—(P)—One wouldn't expect a mouse to be bold enough to knock on the door of a cheese factory demanding admittance. Nor could one picture a pheasant crashing a sporting goods store bulging with shotguns but that's what happened here.

Herb Ruml, proprietor of a sport goods store in downtown Jackson, reported a hen pheasant flew against his window and walked into the store when an employee opened the front door.

Ruml caught the bird under the shotgun cabinet, but it got away and flew down cellar.

A state conservation officer finally corralled the pheasant and took it to headquarters for examination before it was released.

Tourist Council Holds Meeting

Ivens Tells Value Of Agriculture

The importance of the Delta county tourist industry to agriculture and vice versa was described in a talk by Joseph Ivens of Escanaba at the meeting of the Delta County Tourist Council at the Sherman hotel last evening.

Ivens said that agricultural income in Delta county totaled $5,300,000 last year. He pointed out that tourist spending increases the local market for Delta county farm products, since hotels, restaurants and other business establishments are customers of the farmers.

Ivens suggested that Delta county farms could be offered as tourist attractions. He mentioned the fine farms in Cornell, St. Nicholas, Bark River and other rural areas that would be of interest to visitors. He cited the large yields of potatoes in Delta county and the fact that three Delta county growers have won state championships in the past five years.

Walter O'Brien, president of the Delta County Tourist Council, presided at the meeting. He discussed plans for the revival of the clearing house plan for keeping a constant check on available tourist accommodations during the heavy travel season.

State Cites Rules On Predator Bounty Application

Regulations governing the application for the payment of bounties on predatory animals were explained today by John Chriske, district conservation department supervisor.

Effective May 1 and continuing through Sept. 30, only the scalp of predatory animals, together with the carcass of the animal for sex identification, will have to be presented for bounty. The scalp must be thoroughly dried and stretched.

This applies to coyotes, wolves, and bobcats which are certifiable for bounty by the conservation department.

In claiming bounty for fox, which are handled by township clerks, presentation of the entire pelt is still necessary.

Bounty payments are as follows: Male coyotes and wolves $15; female coyotes and wolves $20; male and female bobcats $5; male and female fox $5.

Growers' Exchange Scraping Bottom

While the federal government has been burning thousands of bushels of potatoes to keep prices up, Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin growers are facing a serious potato shortage.

The local warehouse of the Michigan Potato Growers' association probably will be completely cleaned out by Monday unless more potatoes are located, Manager Ivens said today.

A national chain store, with a local outlet, called Ivens today and said if it could not obtain a supply of potatoes immediately some of its stores would be out by nightfall.

"We have been delivering short all week and I don't know of a single bushel of No. 1 grade potatoes in the county," said Ivens. "St. Nicholas growers are at the bottom of their bins."

Ivens reported a critical shortage of potatoes in Chicago, Milwaukee and other midwest areas.

Divert Ore To Escanaba From Lake Superior Area

Vitaly needed iron ore that cannot be shipped from ice-jammed ports at Marquette and Ashland on Lake Superior is being diverted to Escanaba for shipment from the only ore port open on the Great Lakes, it was revealed today by Lee McMillan, Chicago & North Western dock agent.

Ore from the Marquette Range that normally flows out of Marquette has been coming to Escanaba in increasing amounts, with carriers receiving the red dust here instead of Marquette.

Tonight the first trainload of ore from the Gogebic Range will arrive in Escanaba, with loadings scheduled on boats that cannot reach the port of Ashland, Wis., because of ice conditions on Lake Superior.

Only Temporary

"This is only temporary," McMillan pointed out. "Loadings at Ashland and Marquette will start as soon as the boats can reach those ports."

Meanwhile the C&NW docks in Escanaba are busy with the rush for ore, needed to supply the nation's steel industry and alleviate what is described as a "critical" shortage because of the ice bottleneck north of Sault Ste. Marie in Lake Superior. Whitefish Bay has halted the movement of boats between Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

Sixteen boats have loaded out of Escanaba in the week since navigation opened here. Last year shipping started here nearly a month earlier and little trouble was encountered on Lake Superior.

Tanker Coming

Escanaba has received two boat loads of coal within the past week and a tanker, the Orion of Cleveland Tankers Line, is scheduled to arrive at the Thiesen-Clemens company dock at Kipling tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The tanker cleared today from East Chicago for Kipling with gasoline and fuel oil.

There is some ice at Kipling but not enough to prevent the Orion from docking, it was reported.

Dr. Ruwitch Opens Veterinary Office

NORWAY, Mich.—Dr. Joseph Ruwitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ruwitch and a graduate veterinarian, has opened a veterinary office, temporarily, in his residence, 611 Walnut St., Norway, and in the near future will be established in permanent quarters, probably in Iron Mountain, he announced today.

Dr. Ruwitch was graduated in 1935 from the Norway high school, and from Michigan State college in 1941 as an agricultural instructor. He taught school at Mendon, Mich., until June, 1942, when he entered the Navy, remaining in active service until 1945.

He then returned to MSC, to take up veterinary medicine and was graduated with a degree in June of last year. Since then he has been established in practice at Cheboygan, Mich.

He is married to the former Victoria Elizabeth Garbutt, of New York, and the couple has a son, Thomas, age seven months.

Dr. Ruwitch will accept calls at his home for large-animal cases, but is not prepared, as yet, to treat dogs at his home. Within the near future, however, he expects to establish a home-kennel for the treatment of small animals.

Dr. Ruwitch is a brother of George Ruwitch of Escanaba.

Home-Made Raft Overturns, Boys Escape Drowning

SCHAFFER—Dwayne, "Dicky" Taylor, 15, son of Emmanuel Taylor, and Lawrence "Sonny" Richer, 15, son of the senior Lawrence Richer, narrowly escaped drowning Sunday afternoon when their home-made raft overturned in seven feet of water in the swift current of Ten Mile Creek.

Dicky, a good swimmer, reached shore and then rescued Sonny who lost his hold on a tree he grabbed and went down once. Dicky revived his companion with artificial respiration and the two lads, thoroughly soaked and chilled, returned home, their only concern, the loss of their raft.

The adventure began when the boys found some old timbers in back of the barn and built a 10 by 12 foot raft. They were sailing merrily down the creek, singing favorite cowboy songs, with Dicky, the captain, seated on an old rocking chair, when the mishap occurred.

The lads suffered no ill effects from their ducking in the icy water.

Pink and Blue Shower

SCHAFFER—Mrs. Joe Butryn was honored at a pink and blue shower Monday evening at Joe's Fireside Room, the hostesses, Mrs. Lawrence Richer, Mrs. Stanley Butryn, Mrs. Louise Butryn and Mrs. Fiear Beck.

Cards and luncheon were played. Winners in 500 were Mrs. Martin Kwarclany, Mrs. William LaValle and Mrs. Arthur Tourangeau. Luncheon awards went to Mrs. Eddie Kwarclany, Mrs. Frank Pokladowski and Mrs. August Nelson. Mrs. Pokladowski received the guest award and Mrs. Arthur Levesque, the traveler's box. A party lunch was served. Mrs. Butryn received many lovely gifts.

Green bay waters are clearing rapidly of ice under the action of strong winds. Some ice fields are reported heavy off Cedar River harbor, preventing the movement of commercial fish boats.

Buoys and other aids to navigation will be set out soon in northern Green bay waters by the Coast Guard tender Hollyhock. The buoys have been stored at Escanaba during the winter.

Camp Fire Group Elects Officers

Mrs. Zerbel Is New President

Mrs. Clarence Zerbel of Escanaba was elected president of the Bay de Noc council of Camp Fire Girls at a meeting Tuesday night in Carnegie library.

Mrs. James Bell was elected first vice president, Mrs. Ivor Barber, second vice president; Mrs. George Lindenthal, secretary; Mrs. Warren Johnston, treasurer; and Mrs. Clarence Moreau, executive director, part time.

The newly elected officers will form the new council for the ensuing year.

Camp Plans Discussed

During the meeting, members discussed holding camp for girls this year, during the week of July 17 at the Wells Park camp. Each cottage there accommodates 16 girls. A central dining hall is provided and the camp area offers a wide variety of activities such as hiking, woodcraft, nature study and swimming.

Two Camp Fire counselors from Escanaba will assist with the program at Wells Park camp. All activities will be under supervision.

Committees Named

In addition to electing officers for the new year, the Camp Fire council elected members to serve on the various committees.

They are as follows:

Social Committee—Chairman, Mrs. Geo. Young, Mrs. Earl Frechette, Mrs. Merritt Kasson, Mrs. Roy Starlin.

Finance Committee—Chairman, Mrs. Torvald Strom, Mrs. Jensen, Miss Ethel Gilmore.

Public Relations—Chairman, Mrs. James Bell, Mrs. Kirk Harrington, Mrs. Ivor Barber, Mrs. J. H. Ahlquist, Mrs. Chas. Hammar.

Growers Seek Spud Decontrol

Marketing Order Is Under Attack

MINNEAPOLIS — (P) — Wisconsin and Minnesota representatives suggested Tuesday that the federal marketing agreement on potatoes be terminated and demanded special provisions favoring small growers.

They presented their arguments at an Agriculture Department hearing on proposed amendments to the north central potato marketing area. About 200 men from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and North Dakota are attending the hearing.

Anton Hartl said small growers in Milwaukee county, Wis., wanted no part of a marketing agreement unless special provision is made for the small grower to permit him to escape inspection of potatoes sold in small lots. Royal Arndt, also from Milwaukee county, expressed similar opinion.

Edward Gallahue, Washington, Department of Agriculture representative, said proposed amendments to the existing marketing order for the north central area include one that would eliminate inspection for small day to day lots.

Control of Culls

The suggestion of terminating the marketing agreement was made by Harry Knipp, representing the Wisconsin Potato Growers, Inc. He declared, however, that control should be exercised over culls. Arnold Miller of Moorhead, Minn., produce company manager, seconded Knipp's suggestion.

Miller added that current marketing controls create unfair competition where washed potatoes are concerned.

Other witnesses from Wisconsin asked that they be relieved of responsibilities under the north central marketing agreement.

Cliff Hutchinson, Antigo, Wis., secretary of the Wisconsin Potato Growers, Inc., stated Wisconsin growers don't want the marketing order or any of its regulations. He said the surplus problem is not serious in the north central states.

Joe Bushman, Galloway, Wis., said that if agreements are continued, each state should have its own.

Fred J. Meyer of Madison, Wis.,

representative of the potato chip industry, said potatoes intended for chips should be graded at the point of origin. Under present regulations, he declared, it is not possible to dispose of potatoes which have been bought for chips but are found to be unsatisfactory.

A similar hearing will be held May 1 at Lansing, Mich. After this session, proposals for change in the north central potato marketing agreement will be presented for a vote to some 20,000 growers in the four states.

Proposals to add Indiana and northern Iowa to the four states now covered by the agreement are expected to be considered at the Lansing meeting.

Copper Canyon May Still Have Cliff Dwellers

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Only 500 miles below the U. S.-Mexico border is a great crack in the earth known as Barranca De Cobre (Copper Canyon).

Although never explored, it is believed to be deeper and wider than the Grand Canyon in Arizona.

Vague reports from the area, one of the wildest and most isolated on the North American continent, say that here live real "cliff dwellers," last remnants of an ancient race of men.

An expedition has left Los Angeles to explore this canyon of mystery. The Los Angeles County Museum and William J. Sheffler, ornithologist, are sponsoring the trip.

Sheffler has made many trips into the region but has never descended into the canyon. He hopes to find new species of tropical and semi-tropical birds. The great canyon, formed by the Uruque river, has been reported to be 20 miles wide and some 7,000 feet deep. The point where the expedition hopes to enter it is near where the three Mexican states of Chihuahua, Sinaloa and Sonora come together.

The route of the truck-borne expedition will be by way of Nogales, Ariz., Guaymas, Navaio, and Alamos in Sonora. Near Alamos, on the Rancho Guiracoba, the eight-man party will transfer to horses and mules for the last 90 miles of the journey through the wilderness. Sheffler hopes to return to Los Angeles in about nine weeks.

Editorials— Doran's Address Shows Reasonable Attitude Of Delta County Labor

THE attitudes of Delta county organized labor as outlined by James Doran, president of the Trades and Labor council, in an address to the Escanaba Kiwanis club this week explain why employee-employer relationships here are on a high level of mutual understanding and respect.

As Doran explained, Delta county's organized labor emphasizes good will in negotiating labor contracts. As a result there have been only five strikes in the county in the past 10 years and the ratio of time lost due to strikes was only 4,100 of 1% of the total man-hours of work during the period. The goal is to improve this record in the future, Doran added.

The attitudes of organized labor here are conducive to friendly labor relations, a fact to which employers will attest. Labor has been reasonable in its demands and employers likewise have been reasonable in dealing with labor committees on contract terms. The friendly attitudes have been mutually beneficial to both employers and employees and to the community as a whole.

Underlying the solid labor relationships that exist here is the productivity of Delta county labor, a willingness to do a full day's work for a full day's pay. Employers familiar with labor conditions in other localities, particularly in metropolitan centers, are especially impressed with the reasonable and sensible attitudes of workers in Delta county.

The viewpoint of organized labor here was aptly summed up by Mr. Doran in the following statement to the Kiwanis club members: "Any contract the employer is forced to sign by strikes, intimidation or any other form of duress is not worth the paper it is written on. There is only one sound basis for a contract and that is good will. A good contract can be made only under proper conditions, with open, give and take negotiations and understanding of each other's problems."

This statement, mind you, is a statement made by the duly elected spokesman of organized labor in the Escanaba area. How unfortunate it is that this very sensible and reasonable attitude is not accepted generally by labor and industry together throughout this great nation!

Letting Germany Rearm Would Be Dangerous

WINSTON CHURCHILL for the second time in recent weeks has proposed that the Germans be called on to aid the defense of their own country and Western Europe against possible attack by Russia.

He insisted that in his first comment he said nothing about "rearming Germany." But he added that he sees no reason why British, American, French and German soldiers "should not stand in the line together on honorable terms of comradeship as part of a combined system of defense."

There's nothing particularly new in Churchill's views. Many western officials have been saying for some time, either publicly or privately, that Germany must be allowed to take part in the defense of the West.

But it's an explosive issue. Naturally the West, and especially France, doesn't wish to encourage the rebirth of the same German military might that twice carried the world into war. A Germany strong enough militarily to stand on its own feet and throw its weight wherever it chose is considered unthinkable.

What the West wants is a German force that could be incorporated into a general West European army and held under outside control. Such a force would stand, too, as a balance against East German combat units converted from the so-called "people's police" in the Soviet zone of Germany.

As one writer put it, the West is trying to conceive a German army "which will impress the Russians but will not alarm the French."

Yet such an objective may very well be impossible. Germany's military value does not lie in her rank-and-file man-power but in her industrial strength, her trained officer corps, her highly developed military technology. It is these the West needs.

The foot soldiers of whom Churchill speaks are not required. The West has plenty of ordinary military man-power. There's a big question, moreover, just how well the German foot soldier would fight under foreign leadership in a cause he has thus far showed no great interest in.

The uncomfortable fact is that the military know-how and economic strength the West really requires cannot actually be gained without allowing Germany to rearm in the very way we consider most dangerous.

There may come a time when it will be safe to permit German rearmament in the only manner that will do the West genuine good. But that moment doesn't even appear to be in sight right now. It will arrive when Germany has unmistakably embraced enough of the West's ideals of freedom and democracy to wish to identify itself voluntarily with the European family of free nations.

Coffee Time

It's a well-established custom, when the morning's halfway gone, that the office takes a breather where they've got the coffee on. It may be the place to have it is the joint across the street, or perhaps the recreation room is where the staff will meet. But wherever is the coffee, that's the place to listen well, for you hear the latest gossip that your eager pals must tell.

Now at coffee time you soon relax and stir your steaming cup, and it's strange how everybody's tongue is quickly loosened up. There's the guy upon your right who's voiced the same complaint before—he's still having in-law trouble and it makes him plenty sore. On your left, a secretary says her husband's home in bed, since they did the town last night and he must ice his aching head.

What's the dope on current movies—who's the next to get a raise—what's the new blonde got that seems to win her quite a lot of praise? What's the matter with the bowling team—food's just too doggone high—yep, it's true Joe's wife's expectin', gonna be in late July. So it goes most every morning as the coffee time arrives—be it black, or cream and sugar, that's where gossip really thrives.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—Today's column is going to make my name mud with a lot of my good friends, the newspaper publishers of Florida. For one of the most interesting senatorial campaigns in the nation is going on in their state, with 90 per cent of the newspapers batting hard for one candidate. And when you see all the boys ganging up on one side, I can't resist the good old American custom of seeing what's to be said on the other side.

The Florida election battle is not only a lollipalooza, but it has all the earmarks of another Dewey-Truman campaign.

On one side, and fighting for his life is gnarled, weather-beaten Sen. Claude Pepper with 14 years in the senate at stake, with his chief financial support from labor, and waging an effective, tireless, whistle-stop campaign almost identical to Truman's. Like Truman's, it is aimed at offsetting the solid wall of bad publicity given him by the press.

On the other side is popular, handsome Congressman George Smathers, with four years in congress, whose chief financial support has come from big-money Republicans who spend their winters in Florida and register as nominal Democrats. No mean campaigner himself, Smathers has made a lot of political hay.

The Dewey - Truman comparison is so striking that it caused the staid New York Times to comment:

"The senatorial challenger is a young and handsome man with a rich, well-trained voice, and a reporter might almost imagine he was back on the 'Victory Special' listening to a rear-platform speech by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey."

ECHOES OF DEWEY TRAIN

"The content of the speeches is almost identical. Communism is the main issue. . . And like Gov. Dewey, Representative Smathers is seeking election without outlining in any detail the programs and policies he would follow if elected."

"Another echo of the Dewey train," continues the Times, "is that reporters traveling with Mr. Smathers complain because he uses the same speech every day and they are finding it hard after five weeks to find a 'new lead' for the next day's papers."

But since few Floridians read the New York Times, most Florida newspaper readers get the impression that Claude Pepper is not only Stalin's closest buddy but that he is already a gone gosling.

Just to add to his bad press, the Saturday Evening Post, long a force in Republican politics, deftly scheduled a feature story on Pepper's opponent just ten days before the Florida primary.

Probably most of those who read it did not realize that the Saturday Evening Post averages $50,000 worth of advertising from the du Ponts and affiliated companies every issue and that one branch of the du Pont family is heavily supporting George Smathers.

STRAIGHT GOP-DEMO FIGHT

Real fact about the Pepper-Smathers fight, however, is that it's a straight, down-the-line Republican - Democratic battle. When you get away from all the dust-throwing, the issues are clear and clean-cut as between the Truman liberals and the Republican conservatives. This is probably a healthy thing, because ordinarily an election in Florida doesn't mean much beyond a choice of personalities.

Long ago young Smathers began conferring with ex-Speaker Joe Martin, leading Republican in the house of representatives. Long ago, he quietly began accumulating GOP money and GOP support.

And as that support accumulated, Smathers began swinging over to the Republican side of the congressional aisle. When he first came to congress, Smathers was hailed as the liberal Sir Galahad of the south. But gradually he began voting the opposite.

While casting his vote against slum clearance, he simultaneously promoted the real estate lobby's idea of increasing the amount they could borrow from Uncle Sam up to $750,000. Thus Smathers voted to deny the poor man low-cost housing, but give the big real estate operator the right to use three-quarters of a million dollars of the taxpayers' money, 90 per cent guaranteed by Uncle Sam.

Smathers also voted against social security for traveling salesmen and others, against the minimum wage, and, perhaps most important of all, for the bottling of bills in the rules committee instead of open debate on the floor of the house.

On various occasions Smathers even voted to override Truman's veto on important party policies. Pepper, on the other hand, has voted consistently for Fair Deal projects.

WORDS TO WATCH
Ague does not rhyme with "vague." Give the word two syllables and accent the first, thus: AY-gew.

The word haute, "haughty manner," is in the average vocabulary, but it is a literary word. That is to say, one rarely uses it in conversation or in informal discourse. The most frequent mispronunciation is HAW-ter, by association with "haughty." Haute is French, and stems in the word haut, "high," pronounced: oh. (Initial "h" is never pronounced in French or in any other of the Romance languages.) The first choice English pronunciation is haute is: hoe-TER. The second is as the French say it: oh-TER.

The word horizon, in Shakespeare's day, was accented on the first syllable, thus: "HAWR-i-zun," a pronunciation which Noah Webster preferred in his original dictionary (1828), but which his contemporaries held as obsolete. All present-day authorities accent horizon on the second syllable, which rhymes with "by, my," thus: hoe-RY-z'n. In Standard American speech, however, the "o" of the first syllable is usually obscured, thus: ruh-RY-z'n.

Too many people worry too much about not knowing how not to worry.

Abolition Of War Is Everybody's Job, Contends Nobel Prize Winner

By STAFFORD DERBY
Staff Correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

NEW YORK—Leaders of American business have had a simple formula for personal action to help abolish war spelled out to them by Dr. Robert A. Millikan, vice-president of the board of trustees of California Institute of Technology.

The "supreme personal and individual opportunity of everybody," Dr. Millikan told the fifth annual Brand Names Foundation gathering in the Waldorf-Astoria, in his concept, is this:

"It is to shape my own conduct at all times so as, in my own carefully considered judgment, to promote best, if everyone followed my example, the well-being of mankind as a whole; in other words, to start building on my own account that better world for which I pray."

Personal Action Urged

The Cal Tech official, winner of the Nobel Prize in physics in 1932, named the abolition of war the supreme need of 1950. "When it is met, it alone will make a new world."

The atomic bomb, he said, had made "as clear as crystal to all classes and conditions of men the world over" the necessity for the abolition of all wars.

Emphasizing the value and need for personal action, Dr. Millikan also stated that "the one and only way in which such abolition can come about is through the implementation of the principle of collective security."

Such implementation, he went on, would come about "through the willingness and determination of all peace-loving nations everywhere to join their collective strengths, no matter what the cost to them may be, to oppose the world aggressor whenever and wherever he may appear."

In explaining this twin-purpose analysis of the problem of world peace, Dr. Millikan cited "the two great pillars upon which all human well-being and human progress rest" as "first, the spirit of religion, and second, the spirit of science or knowledge."

'World Loyalty' Stressed

In the latter, Dr. Millikan saw the responsibility resting on the world's universities and research institutions. But the former was immediate and personal.

"This means that my personal job is to develop an attitude of willingness—of determination—to subordinate my own immediate personal impulses, appetites, desires, and selfish interests to the larger good of my fellow men as I see it in cases in which there seems to me, after careful consideration, to be conflict between the two."

He termed this "world loyalty." He saw as a "main purpose" of the Christian churches "the spreading of this attitude throughout society."

In his judgment, said Dr. Millikan, the church is "the great dynamo which is largely responsible for pumping into human society the spirit of altruistic idealism," one of the essentials of human progress.

'Cores of Knowledge'

Covered closely with this is the growth of knowledge in the fields of physics, chemistry, geology, physiology, psychology, economics, history and government. Each has a core of "definite, established, noncontroversial knowledge," the Nobel Prize winner declared.

Progress stemming out of these "cores" and enlivened by the "spirit of religion" during the past 100 years has brought about a "higher standard of living for the common man than has existed at any time or place in history," Dr. Millikan said.

Here he acclaimed what he termed the "unimpeachable credentials for the American way of life which Brand Names Foundation is doing so much to maintain by heightening understanding of the roots of our economic system."

Practical results of this system were expounded in a grass-roots example. "The common, unskilled American laborer today exchanges but one hour of his labor for the same basket of goods which his Russian counterpart must work 10 hours to obtain."

Looking over the head of this Russian workman, Dr. Millikan saw the men in the Kremlin as the greatest hazard to the attainment of peace.

After tracing the failure of the League of Nations to bring about world understanding, the noted physicist praised the efforts of the United Nations.

"The United Nations has been set up to try to implement in this way collective security, and at present, thank God, all the important nations are in it and at the moment the responsibility is wholly on Russia for sabotaging that effort."

This attitude of Russia was not given "unimpeachable" status by Dr. Millikan. He said he was more encouraged than he had "ever been in the last 50 years."

But it was to "world loyalty," and the higher concepts of that idea that the attention of the 1,000 businessmen was directed. Dr. Millikan answered a rhetorical question: "Where does the idea of God come in? Isn't it a part of religion?"

He said: "Yes, I think it is, because I do not see how there can be any sense of duty or any reason for altruistic conduct—i.e., world loyalty, which is entirely divorced from the conviction that personal moral conduct or what we call goodness is somehow or other, worth while. That there is something in the universe which gives significance and meaning, call it value if you will, to existence, and no such sense of value jump of dead matter interacting according to purely mechanical laws."

Letters From The People

Beaver Trapping

Dear Editor:

I have just finished trapping during the past beaver trapping season and I couldn't help but be impressed by some of the regulations governing the trapping of beaver. Possibly the Department of Conservation could explain them to the trapper and public.

The first regulation that is beyond all understanding to the beaver trapper in this north country is the date for beaver trapping in the Upper Peninsula set by the Conservation Commission. This date in the past has been from the 1st of April to April 15th inclusive. This date wasn't too bad but it could have been better. On the average type of spring we have in this part of the country the most of the beaver were caught the last week of the beaver season. This year the Commission advanced the date to March 25th. Why did they do this? The only reason trappers can give for such a move is that the Conservation Department did not want us to catch the beaver. They know as well as the trapper here knows that on an average spring in this part of the State the date they set for trapping beaver this year would throw the trapper right into heavy winter trapping conditions.

The other regulation that is hard to understand is the one regarding the sealing of beaver hides. Each beaver hide taken by the trapper has to have attached to it a metal seal before the trapper can sell the hide. In past years this sealing cost the trapper $1.00 per hide. This year the department doubled the cost of the seals. Why was this sealing cost doubled? It was acted upon by the legislature, but must have been recommended by the Department of Conservation. It couldn't have been that the department needed the money that bad for if the newspapers of the state are correct the department has a very large surplus of funds in their treasury at this time. It is hard to realize that the beaver trapper has to pay as much to have one beaver hide sealed as it costs him for his beaver trapping license. Why should a beaver trapper be compelled to pay a fee on his own personal property before he can sell it? From the time a beaver steps into the trap of a beaver trapper he becomes the property of that trapper and is no longer the property of the state or any one else. He pays to the state the sum of $2.00 for a license to trap beaver. This license gives him the right to legally trap and take a certain number of beaver. And it certainly is understood that this license gives him the right to sell these beaver for that is what he takes the license out for.

The one reason and the only reason for the sealing of beaver hide is to make it more difficult for the traffic in illegally caught hides. Is there any reason why the small cost of the seals to the department couldn't be included in the present license fee that the beaver trapper pays to trap? These seals could be issued to the trapper at the same time he receives his license. The seals are all dated for the year issued and can only be used once. They are practically the same as the deer seal that is used to put on your buck during the deer season. This would not in any way increase the traffic in illegally caught hides. Now the illegally caught hides are either sold without seals or are carried over until the sealing period and then sealed. The conservation department could include on the license a stub for the trapper to fill in giving them the same information that they are now getting when they seal the hides.

I believe that before the next setting of the legislature this matter should be taken up with the Representatives from the Upper Peninsula and have them take action to correct the law as it now stands regarding the sealing of beaver hides.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN
OLD MAN DEVIL—Walter Peters, superintendent of the Rapid River Agricultural school district, comes to this neck of the woods from Lower Michigan. He succeeded R. P. Bowers as head of the consolidated school system at Rapid River.

We hope that he was referring to a Lower Michigan family when he told an amusing story at a recent meeting of educators in Escanaba.

Two little girls walking home from Sunday school were overheard in conversation, Supt. Peters reported. One of them complained that all the teacher had talked about was the devil.

"Do you really think there's a devil?" asked one girl.

"No," replied her chum, shaking her head.

"Why not?"

"Because I think the devil is just like Santa Claus—it must be Daddy!"

WORK PROGRAM—The program of the 4-H clubs has an increasing appeal to American youth, including those in the cities as well as on the farm. Parents might well interest themselves in the 4-H movement for obvious reasons.

Most youth programs have recreation as their principal objective. The 4-H club program stresses the satisfaction to be found in work accomplished through a variety of projects, not overlooking the need for group social activities. 4-H combines opportunity for work and play.

FOR EVERYONE—There is satisfaction and a life-saving sense of accomplishment in work. This philosophy is most admirably expressed in a recent letter written by F. M. Shaw of Grand Rapids to his son, Thaxter Shaw, and other members of the family in Escanaba.

F. M. "Dad" Shaw is now 83 and takes an active interest in the success of a store business, a new venture.

"Don't any of you ever think of retirement," he writes. "It does not pan out. I notice it every day among those who have become our customers. Work helps to keep the mind clear, the eyes bright and shining, appetites sharp, and brings eight hours of good sleep."

In these troubled times he has taken to listening to the reactions of others, rather than allow himself to react with angry thoughts and hard words. And he finds that he is in agreement with many others in "our need of another Lincoln or Coolidge, perhaps someone now unknown, to lead us out of what may be our finish."

And for the individual he has this advice: "Work, work, and then work! It is the same answer from the time our ancestors landed, and those who practice it will agree, a Sunday sermon? If so, make the most of it."

IT WILL COME—Usually by this time of year the woods and fields are beginning to show a tinge of green, marking that season when those who have the inclination to combine a little work with outdoor pleasure can pick a fine mess of spring greens for the family table.

Wild greens do make good vegetables. Many are excellent eating and contain just as many vitamins and minerals as the leafy green vegetables bought in the stores or grown in home gardens.

Dandelion greens are good cooked or in salads. Young leaves of marsh marigolds, chicory, watercress, pigweed, mustard and sorrel are edible. Shoots of milkweed resemble asparagus in flavor.

But select only the young and tender greens and do not cook them too long, advises the state health department. Wild greens make an excellent "spring tonic." Perhaps the time is not far off when you can get out to enjoy picking them.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Detroit—Homer Martin, former Baptist preacher, who entered the front ranks of the nation's labor leaders, resigned today as president of the AFL-Affiliated United Automobile Workers. Martin, who left the ministry to become an automobile worker, rose rapidly as a champion of labor. He became president of the UAW in 1936, led the auto workers from the AFL into the CIO fold, and piloted the quickly growing union through the 1937 sitdown strikes.

Escanaba—H. H. Shepeck was reelected president of the Escanaba Golf Club. Other officers named were: Vice president, C. J. Driscoll; and secretary - treasurer, W. J. Schmit.

Escanaba—The Str. Thomas Walters, which spent the winter at the Reiss coal dock, left today for Toledo for a load of coal.

Escanaba—The smelt run is over. Only about one hundred pounds of smelt were taken from the Escanaba river as compared to tons on previous nights.

Gladstone—Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Diamond left for Rochester, Minn., to attend a medical conference at the Mayo Clinic.

20 YEARS AGO

Miami, Fla.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh set his specially-built plane down on Pan-American airport at 4:45 p. m. today to prepare for the third inaugural air mail flight into Latin-America.

Escanaba—James Van Enkevort, experienced dairyman of Wrightstown, Wis., has been appointed general manager of the Whitney farms, near Perronville.

Manistigue—A. F. Hall has gone to Ann Arbor to attend a school masters' conference.

Gladstone—Earl Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson, 1003 Minnesota avenue, is now engaged as radio operator and purser on the S. S. Bonnie Brook of the Export Line, running to the Mediterranean and Black Seas.

Lots of folks are taking that old remedy for colds—if they have any left over from the New Year's Eve party.

Some folks could reduce by living without their means.

Trouble Brews In Far East

Communists Making Steady Progress

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — While this divided government quarrels over the issue of Communism here at home, the flames of revolt and impending chaos are mounting higher in Asia. It is perhaps the costliest bit of fiddle-faddling history has ever seen.

In the Philippines the surface of law and order is perilously thin even in the centers of population. The rebellious Huks control considerable areas where they are unchallenged by the duly constituted government of President Elpidio Quirino.

The economic situation is steadily worsening. In various forms of aid since the end of the war, the United States has put $2,000,000,000 into the Philippines. A good bit of it has disappeared as though absorbed into quicksand. Urgent pleas are being pressed here for more dollars.

Trouble in Indo-China

In Indo-China no one ventures outside the cities without a heavy armed guard and then only in cars traveling at high rates of speed. The forces of Communism, plus banditry, are steadily wearing away the French army of 150,000 that has been holding the line. There is a real possibility that the United States will be called on for military economic assistance on a scale for which we are totally unprepared. It could be another but far more costly and extensive Greece dropped suddenly into the American lap.

When Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jessup returned from his inspection tour of Southeast Asia, he warned of a factor intangible but nevertheless of first importance in that part of the world. That is the bandwagon psychology that leads volatile peoples to gravitate toward power and success in a period when changes are occurring with revolutionary speed.

This is important to remember

CLASS LEADERS—Donald Haapala, (left) will be valedictorian, and Stanley Hill, salutatorian, of the Eben high school graduating class at commencement exercises Thursday evening, May 25 at Camp Shaw, Chatham.

Donald, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Haapala, attended Rock River schools from kindergarten through high school. He was a member of the student council for two years, was vice president of the athletic association this year and a member of the senior play cast. He played basketball three years and was on the varsity his senior year. He also was a member of the relay team for four consecutive years. He plans to begin a college course in business administration in the fall.

Stanley a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Hill, Chatham, also attended Rock River schools from kindergarten. He was class president his freshman and sophomore years, was a member of the varsity basketball team three years and has been taking part in track and field events each year. He has been employed at the U. P. Experiment Station during vacations. He also plans to enter college this fall.

In light of the latest disaster to the forces of Nationalist China on Hainan island. According to the New York Times, Nationalist forces were conservatively estimated at twice those of the invading Communists and the Nationalists had superior sea and air weapons. The Associated Press correspondent on the island reports that the capital fell almost without a shot being fired in its defense as Nationalist armies melted away.

Repetition of Tientsin

Thus is repeated the tragedy of Tientsin and other cities on the mainland. At Tientsin American military advisers were present and tried in vain to urge a logical plan of defense. There is no reason to believe that the advice of American military advisers would have been any more welcome if they had been present at Hainan as some senators so insistently demanded.

Should we continue to be ob-are hopelessly encumbered with that past. It will, at last, be abundantly clear that it hangs about us like an albatross.

The time is desperately overdue for tangible and immediate moves that would show we mean what we say. These moves may very from country to country.

The Philippine government may be encouraged to ask for the kind of American guidance that will mean greater stability in finance and in administration during a difficult transition period. In Indo-China and Burma it might be something as elemental as a few malaria-control projects to demonstrate the good will that is behind our professions of friendship.

Blaming Each Other

One can see few signs that this is happening or that it is in preparation on anything like an adequate scale. The blame? It seems to me there's more than enough to go around.

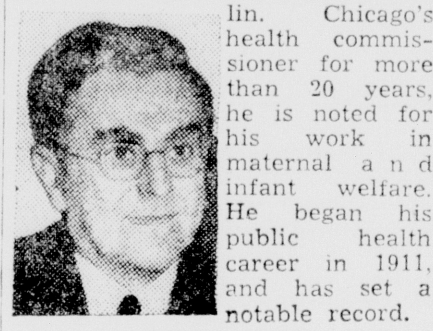

The state department points out, and with some reason, that congress is not in a mood to approve any new programs either large or small. Critics in congress reply that they have never been consulted about a program. And they ask, with good reason, why the department hasn't gone ahead with the facilities already at its disposal. Over all is the screaming obbligato of McCarthyism, like a distracting blast on a steam calliope.

This is not "cold war." Under present circumstances that phrase becomes a dangerous deception. Cold war implies a steadiness, a resolution, a willingness to sacrifice and at least a degree of unity. Those elements are not written large on the American landscape at this moment.

Farm Product Prices Down

But Solid Postwar Level Is Coming

By L. H. BROWN
Michigan Farm Economics
The major drop in Michigan farm product prices is past. The average decrease has been 25 percent from the peak early in 1948. It seems likely that another 10 to 15 per cent downward adjustment will be forthcoming before a solid post-war level is reached around which prices may fluctuate for several years. This means a level of farm prices about double the 1910-14 average and about 75 to 90 percent above the 1935-39 level.

These estimates assume that the present indication for a high level of non-farm employment and income are correct, that the present cold war will not develop into a shooting war, and that there will be a price support program operating with effectiveness comparable to the Agricultural Act of 1949.

Price Drop Varies Widely
Although the average of prices declined 25 percent from the peak reached in January, 1948, decline in the prices of individual commodities has varied from 6 percent for lamb to 55 percent for corn from their individual peak prices. It is evident that the price decline for the dairy enterprise has been moderate as compared with feed prices, and this is reflected in the small decline in the price of dairy cattle.

Historically, when prices have declined the prices received have generally declined faster and further than have prices paid by farmers for items used in production and living.

Lower Ratio Expected
For 1949 the index of prices paid averaged 250 (revised) while the index of prices received averaged 259 for a ratio of 104. The parity ratio for March, 1950, was 95. It is likely that this ratio will range from 75 to 85 and this will be brought about by another 10 to 15 percent decline from the peak in prices received, accompanied by a smaller average decline in prices paid.

Present indications are that there will likely be fairly heavy marketings of hogs and fed cattle in the fall of 1950 with the lowest prices since the war. This should not be enough of a price break to bring about an appreciable liquidation of breeding stock unless a drought should cause feed prices to go above support levels. We appear to be in the increasing numbers phase of the cattle and hog cycles. That means that with steady feed prices, farmers are holding back breeding stock and tending to reduce numbers for slaughter relative to the number raised.

More Belt Tightening
Farmers' annual net incomes for 1949 are off from the high levels reached in 1947 and 1948 as a result of the 25 percent decline in prices with little decline in farm expense items. It seems safe to say, however, that the predicted future decline of 10 to 15 percent in farm prices will cause more belt tightening adjustments

Boilermakers Donate Tank For Polio Boy At Waukesha, Wis.

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—A group of warmhearted boilermakers are going to see that a young polio victim gets the swimming pool he needs for exercise.

After Saturday seven-year-old Jimmy Gaylor will have the pool in his backyard at nearby Waukesha, Wis.

Jimmy's grandfather, Jack Gaylor, owns a Milwaukee tavern, patronized by many boilermakers. Grandpa Jack sold the idea of a swimming pool for his grandson to Joseph F. Maley, business agent for the AFL Boilermakers union. On Saturday several boilermakers will drive to Jimmy's house in a truck donated by the John Hennes Trucking Co. which also donated steel sheets and welding equipment, and build the swimming tank.

The tank will be 12 feet long, six feet wide and four feet deep. After that it will be up to Jimmy.

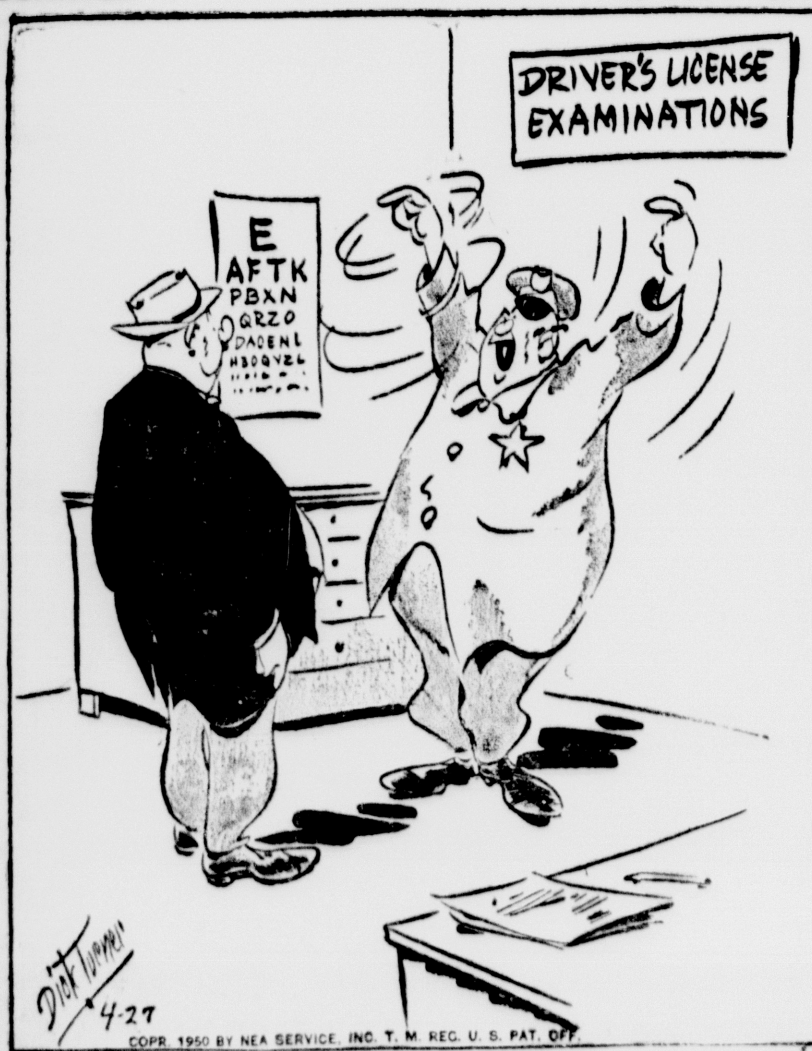

among farmers than the first 25 percent. These adjustments will show up in a reduction in purchases of machinery and improvements. Also there will be an increase in the demand for credit and a consolidation of short-term debts into long term loans.

Preparations by individual farmers for these more difficult times ahead should include (1) getting finances on a sound basis of weather a season or two of low income (2) having a capital reserve to take advantage of opportunities to buy into livestock when prices of livestock are low (3) following practices and organizing the business for maximum production efficiency.

Following the predicted shaking out and price adjustment period there should be several years during which efficient farmers will prosper.

Game Search Measure Sidetracked In Senate

LANSING—(AP)—Constitutional doubts in the Senate have sidetracked, at least temporarily, a bill to strengthen conservation officers' powers.

The measure, once considered certain of quick passage, was sent to the senate judiciary committee for reworking after senate attorneys fell to arguing about its constitutionality.

The bill, backed by the administration and sportsmen's groups, was intended to overcome a state supreme court decision that conservation officers do not have the authority of peace officers. This prevents them from carrying firearms and from making searches, seizures and arrests without warrants. The bill would allow them to search and seize upon "probable cause" to believe the laws were being violated.

Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) chairman of the judiciary committee, called his group together to study the bill. He emphasized he was sympathetic to the purpose of the bill and said he was certain a legally workable formula could be found.

In fact, no voice was raised against the bill's purpose in the senate. The debate was over its legality.

One of the strongest critics, Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) insisted the measure was unconstitutional as drawn. "What you are trying to do," Morris said, "is to allow conservation officers as police officers to do things that other police officers can't do regarding misdemeanors, yet the penalties in these game and fish laws are eight to 10 times as heavy as in ordinary misdemeanors."

Senator John B. Martin, jr. (R-Grand Rapids), author of the bill, invited Morris to make any corrective amendments he desired, but Morris said "I don't want to be responsible."

Martin insisted the measure was constitutionally sound, but he did not object to sending it to the judiciary committee.

Before the bill was turned back, Martin attached an amendment requiring conservation officers to show uniforms, badges, insignia or credentials before making arrests, searches and seizures. This was to answer objections raised Tuesday.

Browder Faces Red Spy Quiz
By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Earl Browder, former Communist party chief, told Senate investigators today that "to the best of my knowledge and belief" there are no Communists in the state department.

Browder, who was expelled from the Communist party in 1946, said that if he knew of any Communists in the department he would say so but that he doesn't know of any.

Browder also told the committee that he has never met Owen Lattimore but knows him by reputation "as a person of anti-Communist views of a very profound character."

Browder flatly contradicted testimony from Louis F. Budenz that Lattimore's name came up at a meeting of Communist leaders in New York city in October, 1937.

There never was such a meeting, Browder declared. He said "it is hard to imagine how even a professional perjurer could think up" testimony such as Budenz gave a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee.

Budenz, former Communist editor who renounced the party, testified last week that Browder and other party leaders told him Lattimore was a member of a "Communist cell." He said that at a 1937 meeting there it was agreed that Lattimore should direct the organization of writers to put across propaganda that Chinese Communists were agrarian reformers.

Lattimore, far eastern expert and now a professor at Johns Hopkins university, has denied any connection with the Communists. He also has denied the accusation by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that Lattimore was a "top Soviet espionage agent."

Mackinac Bridge Bill Opposed In Lansing Debate

commissioner, a Republican, the other half.

3—Knox's bill to let the governor appoint the authority subject to senate confirmation, limited to making a study of the bridge and reporting to the legislature its findings.

Vandenberg's own idea was to order the highway department to turn over all data from previous studies to a committee composed of the presidents of the major state colleges and universities, who would report on the advisability to the legislature.

Vandenberg took the floor to defend his position after Ellsworth asked him to allow a committee hearing to proponents of the bridge.

"The question of creating another Mackinac bridge commission should not be taken lightly," Vandenberg said, "nor should it be stampeded through the legislature until the committee has been given every opportunity to put together some of its own facts."

"This legislature has no moral right to accept at full face value all of the statements, publicly and propaganda of the bridge proponents without first making some inquiries of our own."

"If (the committee) wants to know how much money the taxpayers have already spent on this study. It wants to know what findings the previous bridge authority commission arrived at."

"If, as it is now reported, the state has already spent somewhere between $400,000 and $500,000 to determine the feasibility of a bridge, we owe it to the taxpayers of Michigan to find out what results were obtained."

"We are working on the subject. We will not be pressured into either a hearing or any other action until we have assembled those facts."

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) a member of Vandenberg's committee, retorted "You may be working on it, but the committee hasn't that I know of. I have seen nothing of it yet. We have had this bill in our committee for five weeks and we are only going to be here two or three weeks more. I think these groups should be given a hearing."

Club Owner Doomed To Die; Wife Killed To Keep Her Happy
CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(AP)—The former owner of a fashionable country club today faced death in the electric chair for the slaying of his wife whom he once described as a "happy little bird."

Marshall W. Cox, 60, of Concord, was convicted yesterday of first degree murder by a superior court jury. Judge Joseph L. Hurley imposed the mandatory death penalty but set no date for execution.

The prosecution introduced testimony that Cox killed his wife by clubbing her on the head and then stabbing her with an icepick as she sat at a piano playing a Mozart sonata in their home two years ago.

Police testified that Cox told them he killed his wife because he didn't want her to worry about the cost of repairing a roof which saved in at his Stow Country club. The job would have wiped him out financially, he said.

Witnesses quoted Cox as saying it "seemed like a mercy and kindness" to kill his wife—whom he termed "a bright and happy little bird"—because she "wouldn't be able to take it."

Congress Will Go After Sin

But Human Beings Will Always Gamble

By ROBERT C. RUARK

WASHINGTON—This congress of ours is really having a year for itself. Already it has come flatly out against sin, is momentarily on the record against crime, and is beating the brains out of gambling. Yes, sirs, Buster, our boys are strictly out there with the lance, and no windmill is safe on its hill.

Let us consider gambling today. Gambling is something that Sen. Homer Capehart is going to stamp out if it takes until Christmas. By Christmas I mean Christmas of the year 2050. The senator is going to stamp out gambling by stamping out the communications facilities which make it possible to transmit gambling information over state boundaries. He also proposes to have bookie Frank Erickson and Joe Adonis down to bare their souls for the benefit of congress. I can just see Joey A. giving a flock of rapt congressmen the deep lowdown on gambling in the U. S. of A. Mob guys are all lineal descendants of the clam. That is how they stay alive.

Close Race Tracks

I can tell Senator Capehart one way of stopping horse gambling. You close all the horse tracks—shrieks of "oh no! not that! Anything but that!"—from all the politicians who get the cuts from the track. Close Laurel, Havre de Grace and Charles Town, as an object lesson to congressmen who patronize them.

Then shoot all the horses in the country who cannot prove that they were never affiliated with a racing saddle or were never ridden by an undersized grown man with strong wrists. Then make all the cops give back all the money they have taken from bookmakers. For the senator's benefit, the shake in New York right now is $200 a day, six days a week, for a bookie to stay in business. That is $1200 a week the cops get and free whisky for the beat private, to boot.

Then return all the political contributions that the big gamblers have made to campaigns of the Democratic party. Did I hear anybody say "ouch!" especially from my second home, Louisiana? Then make it a federal crime to be a horse, to associate with a horse, or with people who associate with horses. And we are merely started.

Wipe Out Other Sports

Having purged the horses, we begin with baseball. Wipe out baseball. More money is bet on it annually, through bookies and personalities, than on horses. Then wipe out basketball, and college football, which embraces a greater betting racket than horses. Make professional football illegal, and remove temptation from the tramp athletes who go to military schools when a war is on and then quit the service to play ball.

Now let us inspect the ancient game of stud poker, and the gentle art of craps. Craps, senator, are played with little cubes of ivory, with little specks on them. In the absence of ivory I have seen sailors use cube sugar with burnt-match dots. If, on the first roll, you hit a seven or an eleven, you win. Snake eyes and a trey beat you, and so do boxcars. Boxcars are two sets of six, or 12.

Ban On Craps

To ban craps from the land you will have to shoot nearly all newspaper executives. I was in a spirited game with some of the top talent of the land, just the other night, senator, and right under your own nose. You will never be able to stop crap-shooting so long as newspaper editors foregather to figure out how to run the world. The same applies to stud poker, although I will endorse a mercy killing of the practitioners of Bay Scout poker, which has deer, treys, red queens, one-eyed jacks wild and a wild card in the middle for everybody to share.

If you ban poker as evil you will have to shoot Harry Truman, too, and for your private information, Bernard M. Baruch has a roulette wheel in his house in South Carolina. This is ratty of me, but I think it's a rigged wheel. The house always wins.

After we have wiped out most of the nation in an attempt to control gambling, I still got news for you. So long as two humans remain on the globe they will find something to gamble at, and things to gamble with. You might check on this when Joey A. comes down to tell you that he hasn't got the faintest idea of what you're talking about.

Atomic Submarine To Be Built By Navy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The navy has disclosed plans to build radically new type submarines—one to be atomic powered—and to convert a cruiser into a guided missile combat vessel.

These construction plans were made known in a request to Congress for authority to build 112 vessels of varying types.

Adm. Forrest Sherman, chief of naval operations, told the House Armed Services committee the recommendations were put before Secretary of Defense Johnson on Feb. 13.

Sherman said the proposed program would cost $335,000,000.

Caspian Station Agent Is Honored

CASPIAN, Mich.—Agent George Longhurst of the Chicago and North Western railway at Caspian was guest of honor at a luncheon of the C&NW veterans association at the Iron Inn recently.

Agent Longhurst was presented with a 50-year service button marking his half-century of continuous service with the railway.

The man who has been agent in Caspian for 35 years entered the North Western employ before the turn of the century when he began work as a steamshovel fireman on a line in Illinois but his half-century of uninterrupted service began in April, 1900.

Since then, he has worked at towns in South Dakota, Wisconsin and Michigan, and has seen duty at almost all the stations on the Peninsula division from Green Bay north to Escanaba and west to Iron River. He had served at Huron and Gettysburg, S. D., Menominee, Peshtigo, Oconto and other stations and came here in 1915 from Iron Mountain.

Longhurst last week received congratulatory messages from two former Stambaugh residents, H. G. Hoover, former Milwaukee road agent, and C. I. Clark, now in the west and south, who had read of the presentation ceremony.

St. Lawrence Seaway Gets Support From Commerce Secretary

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said "compelling considerations" call for the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

Sawyer told the House public works committee the $803,000,000 project is "essential to the maximization of our economic strength and national security."

The committee will hear proponents of the long-debated seaway and power works for the next two weeks. Opponents will have a chance to testify after that.

Backers scheduled to be heard include Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of the Army Pace, Secretary of the Interior Chapman, Major Gen. Philip B. Fleming, chairman of the maritime commission, and many others.

Sawyer, in his prepared testimony, said the basic purpose of the seaway—"to break through the barrier of a few score miles which prevents our inland seas, the Great Lakes, from becoming an arm of the Atlantic ocean"—has been understood for half a century.

"It is to bring to the industrial heart of the country, and thereby to the nation as a whole, all the advantages in production and industrial efficiency this would mean," he said. "The similar purpose of the associated power project—to harness the energies of this mighty river for the benefit of the people—has received widespread support over the past generation."

"The importance of these two purposes had grown through the years. Today the opening of the Great Lakes to ocean-going traffic and the harnessing of the waters of the St. Lawrence have become not merely desirable for national progress—this has always been the case—but essential to maximization of our economic strength and national security."

Sawyer predicted the seaway, within a short time of its completion, would "handle a huge volume of traffic and the tolls from this traffic will be more than adequate to amortize the costs of the navigation facilities."

Sawyer noted that the railroads, particularly those in the east, long have opposed the seaway. He denied it would seriously damage the nation's railroad system.

"As a matter of fact, the seaway project, through permitting continued full-scale industrial output in the middle west and through stimulating the growth of new business in that area and elsewhere, will probably from a long-range point of view actually rebound to the benefits of the railroads," he said.

Rep. Kilburn (R-NY) has offered a seaway bill identical to the one before the committee. He said the seaway would result in greatly reduced transportation rates, would develop a tremendous amount of electric power at low rates, provide jobs for thousands, and strengthen the national defenses.

Conservation Search Case Will Get No Rehearing In Court

LANSING — (AP)—The attorney general's office has decided against asking for a rehearing by the state supreme court of the case in which conservation officers' search and seizure powers were declared unconstitutional.

The rehearing was sought by the conservation commission, but Deputy Attorney General Graydon G. Withey said it was felt the case had been thoroughly aired.

The high court threw out a 1948 law which sought to give conservation officers the right to make searches without warrants or "probable cause" to believe a felony had been committed.

Death Takes Father Of Night Baseball, E. Lee Keyser, 65

ST. LOUIS — (AP)—E. Lee Keyser, 65, known as the "Father of Night Baseball," died in a hospital here. He had suffered a stroke April 14.

At the time of his death, Keyser, one of the most colorful figures in the national sport, was minor league secretary of the St. Louis Browns organization.

Keyser had toyed with the idea of night baseball for several years back in the late 20's. Eventually he announced that his Des Moines Club of the Western League would attempt to play at night in 1930.

Lights were installed in the old Western League Park and it was a nervous Keyser who awaited their first trial. At the first night practice session a batter hit the first pitch over the fence.

The experiment was such a success that within two months other minor league clubs installed lights. Later the majors also turned to the night sport.

Clues Found On U. S. Plane Shot Down By Russians In Baltic

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — (AP)—A Swedish naval staff expert expressed the opinion that the Russians shot down the missing U. S. navy Privateer plane 28 miles outside the 12-mile limit claimed by the Soviets in the Baltic.

The officer, Cmdr. Stellan Hermelin, head of the shipping section of the Swedish naval staff, also said he believed the wrecked undercarriage of a plane found in the Baltic was from the missing navy patrol plane.

A yellow rubber suit, possibly from the missing plane, was found on the beach of the Danish island of Langeland. The suit was to be shipped to the American embassy in Copenhagen.

An Associated Press reporter who flew to Visby to view the undercarriage said it was identical to the gear of a U. S. Privateer plane as shown in drawings and pictures and added there were two holes in the wheel which appeared likely to have been caused by bullets.

Open Well Brings Fine In Michigan

MARSHALL, Mich. — (AP)—Michigan invoked its "Kathy Fiscus" law Tuesday.

For leaving an open well on his property Starr Walbeck was ordered in court to pay a fine and costs of $31.90 or go to jail for 30 days.

He also was ordered to cover the well within 24 hours. Neighbors had complained the hole was dangerous for children playing nearby.

Michigan's legislature passed the law last year after three-year-old Kathy Fiscus fell into an open well in California and lost her life despite heroic rescue efforts.

Special Casing Developed For Atomic Bombs

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States apparently is producing a variety of special bomb casing in which its new, immensely more powerful atomic explosives can be used against any type of enemy target.

With such specialized containers or missiles, the atomic bomb ceases to be only a mass destruction weapon for a shot-gun style of attack on an industrial city. It could be used against particular and difficult targets such as underground fortifications and factories.

A laconic phrase in the semi-annual report of Defense Secretary Johnson gives a significant hint. Says Johnson: "Atomic weapons are no longer a small number of bombs of a single type and size to be used only strategically on a carefully selected target."

His reference appeared to be this: The only two atomic bombs used in wartime attacks were exploded in the air over Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Of the two bombs publicly demonstrated after that, in the Bikini test of 1946, one was airburst like those used on Japan. The other was fired underwater after long and careful preparation, impossible under war conditions. The bombs were used, as Johnson said, "only strategically."

Isabella
Dartball Tournament
ISABELLA—The Ensign dartball team won the community championship in Monday evening's tournament played at the community building with ten teams competing. Isabella players were William Vinette, Don Douville, Emanuel Moberg, Burton Peterson, Albert Moberg, Felix and Raymond Cayemberg, Pat Moberg and John and Bob Gouin. Refreshments were served at the close of the games by Mrs. William Vinette, Mrs. Emanuel Moberg, Barbara Vinette and Mrs. Felix Cayemberg.

Sunday School Classes
Sunday school classes at Bethany Lutheran church in Isabella will be resumed on Sunday, May 7. Mrs. Harvey Sundin will serve as superintendent and teachers will be Mrs. Arvid Sundin, Mrs. Nick Bonifas, Mrs. Jonas Sjogren and Miss Signe Lundgren.

Foreigners Getting Out Of Red China On American Liner
HONG KONG — (AP)—The U. S. consulate said the American President Liner Gen. W. H. Gordon will evacuate between 800 and 1,000 foreigners Saturday from Red China.

The Gordon left Okinawa for Taku Bar, the port of Tientsin. It is scheduled to arrive there Friday.

The consulate said the evacuation will bring out about 50 state department personnel, the last in Communist China. It also will cut in half the number of foreigners stranded in Shanghai since the Reds won that city last May.

An attempt last month to evacuate 1,600 foreigners including more than 300 Americans on the Gordon was blocked by the Communists. U. S. Secretary of State Acheson said the effort cost $500,000.

WHALE OF A STORY
NEWPORT BEACH, Calif.—(P)—Gilbert Austin, of Alhambra, Calif., was cruising offshore with his sons, Gordon, 12, and Stevie, 8, in a borrowed 21-foot cabin cruiser. A whale surfaced nearby then disappeared. Moments later an underwater blow lifted the craft clear of the water. As it fell back they saw the whale again, disappearing into the murk.

The cruiser, an 18-inch hole in its hull, was towed to port by another vessel.

Teachers Are Learning At Charm School

By Billie Wheelock
PHILADELPHIA — (P) — "Walking is harder than you think," said the teacher as she promenaded up and down before 100 other teachers who watched with edge-of-chair attention.

On the blackboard in perfect Palmer method script was the tip-off: "Charm School for Teachers."

The promenader was Mary Senk who volunteered as an object lesson on how not to walk.

Miss Senk, who has nice, humorous blue eyes, confided to her fellow instructors and charm school demonstrators Violet Hale, "My Trouble Is Tense Knees."

She and all the other school marmas—young and old, tall and short—were crowded into the small auditorium of a Philadelphia grade school to learn how to be charming in six weeks.

Once a week in a two hour session after school the teachers are being taught how to sit, how to stand, what to wear and how to use their hands and voices more effectively.

Later on there will be an hour or two on make-up application, appropriate hair styles, and a fashion show.

Eye-Appeal Important
It's a board of education project aimed at making the ladies conscious of their eye-appeal. Each woman who completes the course will be given a credit which counts in salary increase considerations.

For the opener last week more than 150 teachers were signed up, but lack of space limited the enrollees to 100.

Then the word spread throughout the school system and hundreds of others said they wanted to come too. So a messenger was sent from school to school today to tell them there was no more room.

This, said Principal Helen Blount who is in charge, means the charm school has come to stay in the Philadelphia school system.

Today's charm expert, Miss Hale, of television station WFL-TV, spent two hours talking and demonstrating the art of walking and sitting.

The teachers, took notes madly, craned their necks and didn't seem to hear at all the outside spring-day noises of school children playing baseball.

No Nonsense
Instructed Miss Hale: "Stand up, tummy in and up, chest up and out, chin up and straighten your backs."

And the teachers followed through, point by point.

Miss Hale, a well-put-together example of what she teaches, brooked no nonsense.

When there was too much whispering at one point she admonished quickly: "Girls, I think you're being rude."

But like students anywhere, the teachers were just bubbling over with unrestrained enthusiasm.

As Anna Rita Fieo, grade school teacher-counselor explained: "This is just what we teachers need—something to make us more attractive to the children. Boys and girls like pretty teachers."

Brussels Visitor At Clark Home

Mrs. Jeanne Kattenberg of Brussels, Belgium, has left for New York City after visiting the first of the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Clark at Wells with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Paul Kattenberg, and her three grandsons, Clark, John and Ricky. The elder Mrs. Kattenberg plans to remain in the east for three more weeks before sailing for her home in Brussels.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weber, 1401 North 20th street, are the parents of a daughter born at St. Francis hospital April 25. The baby weighed eight pounds and ten ounces.

Buy tuna fish that is "flaked" or "grated" for use in sandwiches for the luncheon. Solid pack tuna is particularly delicious in a cream sauce when it is not broken up in pieces that are too small. Stir the fish carefully after you add it to the white sauce.

Cooked snap beans are delicious added to a shrimp curry and they make main-course serving easy. Serve with hot steamed rice and a good fruit chutney of apple or pineapple.

BETROTHAL TOLD—The engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Richard L. Radish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Radish of Milwaukee, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond N. Goodreau of 411 South Eighth street, Escanaba. Miss Goodreau has been residing at 2705 North Shepard avenue in Milwaukee for the past three years. The date of the wedding has not been set.

Escanaba Deanery Workshop Meeting In Escanaba Friday

The Escanaba Deanery of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will hold its annual workshop meeting in Escanaba Friday with members of the clergy, diocesan officers and Deanery Council members and visitors in attendance.

Speakers will include Mrs. R. C. Mahon, Iron River, diocesan president; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph L. Zyrd, vicar episcopal moderator; Rev. David Spelgatti, diocesan director; the very Rev. Joseph J. Dunleavy, diocesan moderator and the very Rev. A. C. Coignard, deanery moderator.

The workshop program will be preceded by a board meeting at 10:30 at the home of Mrs. Stack Smith, 800 Lake Shore drive, and a luncheon at 12 noon at the Delta hotel. The luncheon program will include a talk on "Catholic Action" by Mrs. Mahon, and an address by Msgr. Zyrd. The prayer will be offered by Father Coignard. Present Pretty Face At Breakfast

By ALICIA HART

NEA Staff Writer

Looking spruce at the breakfast table is not easy for the average woman. If she has a family to manage, her mornings are hurried and harassed. If she has a career and a husband, she's equally rushed.

But being untidy at the breakfast table doesn't pay, no matter how rushed you are. The way you look in the morning is the mental picture your husband keeps of you during the day. If your appearance is attractive early in the day, it gives you a better start for the hours ahead.

You probably haven't time for a full make-up before breakfast. But don't forget your lipstick. It will do wonders in helping you to present a pretty face at the table. Next be sure to brush out your hair. Pins hidden under a scarf or net won't do. They rob you of the feminine look, and anyway, your husband will know quite well that they're there.

Now, put on a robe which is both becoming and practical. It shouldn't be frilly; you do have to get breakfast. But it can be tailored in a pastel shade, and washable.

This morning routine will take you approximately five minutes and pay you back many times over in admiration from your husband and family.

Stains made from medicines often can be removed with hot water or wood or denatured alcohol.

Orpheus Choral Club In Delightful Concert

Many Escanaba area music lovers were disappointed today when they heard glowing comments on the Orpheus Choral club's annual concert at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium last night.

It was unfortunate, indeed, that the auditorium was not packed because the Orpheus group, assisted by three fine soloists, gave a splendid concert. Many listeners rated it one of their finest in years.

For one thing, Director Sam Ham did an excellent job of arranging a program to meet the appreciation level of the Escanaba audience. And his able direction brought warmth and sparkle from voices of the group which, incidentally, could stand help of a few more basses and, especially, tenors.

The program opened on a "formal" note, with the robed chorus in an effective flower-and-candle setting singing Gounod's Gallia, a motet based on the lamentations of Jeremiah. There was a slight feeling of uncertainty in spots, especially in some of the counterpoint, but the chorus handled the difficult number well.

Soloists Please
Patricia Wanberg, a slender, attractive young soprano from Marquette, added immeasurably to the club's presentation of the number. After a momentary nervousness, she recovered her composure and was especially pleasing when she gave her full voice.

The club's singing of Ringwald's arrangement of a Hymn to Music, an adaptation of Chopin's etude in E major, was followed by two violin numbers by Helen R. Johnson of Escanaba.

In Sarasate's Gypsy Airs, the soloist presented a series of lilting refrains that, despite some minor difficulty with intricate bowing and pizzicato effects, brought enthusiastic—and even embarrassing—applause from the audience.

One of the most effective numbers of the evening was Mrs. Johnson's playing of Saint-Saens' hauntingly beautiful, The Swan, with the choral club's humming background. She was entirely sure of herself and it was a truly delightful number.

Dan Sheeran, local organist and pianist, displayed a polished and sure mastery of the keyboard in three rousing Gershwin preludes. To an Escanaba audience, a choice of more melodious Gershwin might have been more pleasing than the dissonance of the preludes' chords but Sheeran's handling of the numbers was excellent.

Church Events

Two novelty numbers, featuring an abundance of catchy rhythms, by the Orpheus group were definite crowd pleasers. They were The Woodchuck Song, a difficult and humorous diction test, and Dark Eyes. Director Ham instilled in his group a happy and carefree air in singing the two numbers and the singers really "let go."

Patricia Wanberg came back to sing two popular numbers, Victor Herbert's tongue-twisting Italian Street Song, and Rogers' and Hart's hitting Lover, the second the more pleasingly done.

Another extremely effective number was Beethoven's impressionistic Moonlight sonata which featured blue lighting and Mrs. Claire Garrard's fine piano solo work with a choral background that sounded like an organ accompaniment.

Windup of a delightful evening came with the chorus, especially the tenors, giving "its all" in a rousing version of the Battle Hymn of the Republic with effective two-piano accompaniment by Mrs. Garrard and Dan Sheeran. Erling Johnson, bass, did a solo passage nicely despite breath control difficulty caused by an attack of pleurisy.

After the concert, Orpheus club members, Director Ham and soloists had a party at the Dells.

Fishing Tug Safe In Harbor

"William J" Stuck
In Ice Five Days

The fishing tug "William J." owned and operated by the Sellman Fish Company of Manistique, returned safely to harbor at Grand Marais Tuesday evening, after being marooned in an ice floe in Lake Superior for five days.

Open water out of the Grand Marais harbor for the first time this spring had afforded a welcome opportunity for fishermen in the vicinity to set out nets, and the "William J." and another fishing tug set out for the fishing area.

But before the boats arrived at their destination the wind shifted. The other tug managed to get back to port, but the "William J." was caught. One of the crew walked on the ice to shore the day after they were marooned and the coast guard was informed of their plight. A coast guard helicopter arrived on the scene Monday and dropped food on the ice near the boat.

An off shore wind got the ice moving on Tuesday and little difficulty was experienced in getting ashore.

The ship weathered the situation and the crew members were none the worse for the experience.

Briefly Told

K. Rita Farnan, Girl Scout Community Advisor for Region 7, held a conference with Manistique Girl Scout Council members and Troop leaders today. A luncheon was served at the Paul Bunyan Cook camp at 12 o'clock, and consultation with the Council and leaders followed. Miss Farnan, who serves all the cities in Region 7, has headquarters in Chicago.

Girl Scout Movie Will Be Shown Sunday And Monday

"Women of Tomorrow," is the title of a Girl Scout film which will be shown at the Oak theater Sunday afternoon and evening, afternoons and evenings, April 30 and Monday night, May 1. The movie, which is in technicolor, presents Scouting at all ages, beginning with the Brownie Scout promise for the seven year age group, The Girl Scout oath and laws for the older Scouts, all phases of Scouting activity, including nurse's aide work for Senior Scouts, are depicted in the movie. Climax of the show is a stirring sequence taken at an International meeting at Cooperstown, N. Y., at which delegates from 28 nations were present.

"Women of Tomorrow," while providing some fine entertainment also acquaints parents and adults with the Girl Scout program. Its showing in Manistique has been arranged in an effort to inform parents and girls alike of the wonderful advantages Scouting has to offer.

Legion To Stage Barndance Frolic

The Manistique Post of the American Legion is staging an old time barn dance frolic at the club rooms Saturday evening. There will be regular hoe down music on the dance program, with square dances, schottisches and polkas, waltzes and chevsteps galore. A caller who knows his stuff and is prepared to show you how, has been secured for the evening. Menfolk are to come in blue jeans (Levis, fatigue clothes or what have you) and ladies are to come in gingham or callikers. Ross Collins, old time orchestra will furnish the music.

The party is for the benefit of the Legion's Junior baseball activity. The public is invited.

Local Girls Asked To Make Plans For Outing At Timber Trail Camp

Timbertrail folders for the 1950 camp season were distributed to Manistique Girl Scouts at their various troop meetings this week, and plans for the opening of the camp on July 1, are going forward. Scout Commissioner, Mrs. John Hanson, has urged local girls to make their choice of camp periods and have their registrations in the hands of their troop leaders as soon as possible in order to secure the camp period they wish. Registrations close on June 1, after which time the camp is open to girls outside of the cities owning Timbertrail.

Two week camp periods will be from July 1 to July 15, and July 15 to July 29. There will be three one week periods, July 20 to Aug. 5, Aug. 5 to Aug. 12 to Aug. 19. The camp fee this year for registered Girl Scouts of Delta, Schoolcraft, Alger and Marquette counties will be $15 per week. The Manistique Girl Scout Council has voted to pay $2 per week up to two weeks, for each local girl attending. Various projects and sales have been in progress by the troops to help defray their camping trips. An agreement has been reached with Delta County permitting

Membership Dinner
To Be Held Tuesday

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday, the board voted to hold a general membership dinner at the Paul Bunyan Cook Camp, on Thursday, May 4.

At this general meeting, plans, constitution and by-laws will be presented for the forming of a new and expanded organization, to become a successor to the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce.

The board of directors will recommend that the name of the new organization be "Top Of the Lake Civic Council."

The objectives of the new organization which will be presented for adoption and which were drawn up by the board of directors are: The object of the Top of the Lake Civic Council shall be to promote the development of the City of Manistique and the area, in both civic, economic and social welfare of the people. Its objective will be to work toward making the area a better place in which to live, a better place in which to work, a better place in which to do business, and in this end shall work towards the creating of more employment, more business, more recreational facilities, improved schools, better roads, and to develop a long time planning program which will result in the fulfillment of these objectives.

The meeting is open to all members of the Chamber of Commerce and all people interested in the objectives outlined for it.

Bethel Chorus Presents Fine Program Tuesday

The Girls' Chorus of Bethel College and Seminary, St. Paul, presented a program of sacred music at Bethel Baptist church Tuesday evening.

Most of the numbers were presented a capella by the ensemble and the organlike effect produced by the close harmonies was very pleasing.

There were also vocal solo numbers by Wanda Schipp and Elaine Holmquist, piano solos by Carol Bessey and a most unusual specialty number of Miss Ardis Anderson, who played a trumpet with one hand and accompanied on the piano with the other hand.

Nels J. Stjernstrom, director of the chorus, sang a number.

The chorus also presented a program at the high school auditorium in the evening, Miss Ruth Martinson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Martinson, who is a member of the chorus, presented greetings from the college to the high school student body.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Budget Boost Reasons Seen

Pensions, Garbage Increase Costs

Principal increases in the tentative budget presented the city commission this week by City Manager H. J. Henrikson are found in the general and street funds, perusal of the 1950 estimate discloses.

Estimated expenditures for 1950-51 fiscal year at $136,026.00 or $6,325.00 higher than a year ago. Total taxes to be levied are set at $43,405.00 or $6,220.00 higher than last year.

This results in an increase from $12.50 to $14.00 per $1,000.00 of assessed valuation. Cost per capita is estimated at $8.63.

No provision for salary increases has been made in the budget inasmuch as the commission had not decided the issue, a statement by the city manager in the budget discloses. If approved later, the salary increases will come out of city surplus.

Other items which are to be paid out of surplus are the retirement fund for Dec. 1949, Jan., Feb., and Mar., 1950; a billing machine for the city office; crushing of 15,000 cubic yards of gravel; replacement of a 1936 truck; construction of a receiving vault at Fernwood cemetery, if approved; and construction of storm sewers, if such a program is undertaken.

Principal reason for the increase in the street fund arises from an increase from $5,000 to $8,500 for garbage collection and another from $1800 to $2200 for street lighting.

In the general fund the main increase comes from a $4,000 item for employee retirement fund and a $500 amount for increased fuel costs for heating public buildings here.

Committee Studies Safety Standards In Iron, Copper Mines

LANSING—A committee to study the need for state legislation to set up safety standards in iron and copper mines has been proposed to the legislature.

Rep. Louis Mezzano (D-Wakefield) introduced a resolution calling for three representatives and three senators to serve on the committee.

The study would be made between legislative sessions and the committee would be allocated $2,500 for expenses of members.

Declaring that "employment in and around mines is officially recognized as highly hazardous," the resolution added that "the present inspection (of mines) by counties has not afforded either adequate or uniform protection to citizens employed in such mines."

The resolution asked that the committee study working conditions in iron and copper mines "and, if found necessary, to prepare remedial legislation."

National Forest Timber For Sale

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor, Escanaba, Michigan up to 2:00 P. M. E.S.T., May 29, 1950 and will be opened immediately thereafter, for all the marked or otherwise designated timber on an area of approximately 162 acres in Sections 22, 23, and 26, T. 43 N., R. 29 W., estimated to contain a net volume of 993 cords of peeled aspen pulpwood, more or less. The volume of the marked or otherwise designated trees has been determined by measuring the volumes in a sufficient number of sample plots to provide an estimate to a statistical accuracy of 11%. The volume indicated is not guaranteed but is to be accepted as final by the purchaser. No bid of less than $775.75 will be accepted. In addition to the price bid for stumpage, the purchaser will be required to make a deposit of $238.25 to be used for sale area betterment work. A deposit of $100.00 must accompany each bid to be applied on the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages according to the conditions of the sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before bids are submitted the marked and designated timber should be examined and full information concerning the timber, conditions of sale and submission of bids should be obtained from the Forest Ranger, Rapid River, Michigan, or from the Forest Supervisor, Escanaba, Michigan.

Golden Greek, Hangman, Giant On Grappling Card Here Tonight

"Rassling" Show Starts At 8:15

Lions Revive Sport At Junior High

The Golden Greek, the Plattsville Hangman, and the Italian Giant.

Those are just three of the colorful characters who will rumble into the Lions club ring at the junior high school gym tonight in the revival of professional "rassling" in Escanaba after almost a quarter of a century.

The Golden Greek, of course, is none other than Jim Londos, who ruled the worlds heavyweight wrestling for 15 years before he retired years ago. He has come out of retirement and has been drawing bigger crowds than ever.

Even Ring Collapses
His opponent tonight will be the Italian Giant, christened Tiny Milano. Tiny is a mere 290-pound stripling who will outweigh Londos by about 70 pounds.

Milano was so rough with another opponent at Ironwood Tuesday night that the ring collapsed in a heap when he smashed his foe to the floor. As a result, Marquette had to borrow Escanaba's ring for his show last night.

If Milano smashes the Escanaba ring, it will be an Herculean feat because it is of steel.

Londos and Milano will wrestle the best two out of three falls, with an hour time limit—unless one or the other gets killed before the time is up.

He's The Villain
Now let's take the Plattsville Hangman. He's 240-pound Don Kosh from Plattsville, Pa.—a villain if there ever was one.

Kosh will be meeting Mike Blazer, son in the father-son Blazer combination from Green Bay. The younger Blazer weighs in at an even 200 pounds. This will be a semi-windup match, two out of three falls with a 45 minute time limit.

The opening match, scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock, will find the Chicago Cop, 205-pound Jerry Mossberg, mixing with Al Monte, a 225-pound former pro boxer from Brooklyn.

The gym will seat 1,500 persons. At least 1,200 general admission tickets will be placed on sale when the doors open at 7 o'clock. The north balcony will be reserved for students and the south balcony will be made available to adults.

Jimmy Mancini of Iron Mountain will be the referee.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—(AP)—Rip Engle, who left the ivy-draped confines of Brown for greater security as Penn State football coach, had the task last night of "welcoming" Lloyd Jordan to the Ivy league. . . Jordan quit Amherst, where he probably could have stayed forever, to take the somewhat less certain Harvard job. . . Both these moves have the coaching fraternity rather puzzled. . . Penn State didn't offer Engle any huge salary, but it did give him a professorship and probably will dig up some material for him. . . Of course, if a coach really wants appreciation, he should head for the Southwest. Southern Methodist fans recently gave Matty Bell a big, shiny automobile, plus a two-year insurance policy on it and $700 worth of gas.

LIMITED CO-OPERATION
One of the chuckles in Gene Sarazen's new book, "Thirty Years Of Championship Golf," comes from a tale of Mrs. Sarazen asking Gene's caddy, during a Florida tournament, how things were going. . . "Well," replied the caddy, "we got a birdie on the 13th; we birdied the 14th, too. . . But on 15 Mr. Sarazen took a seven."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
Bobby Riggs, whose pro tennis tour has grossed more than $200,000 this season, is hoping to sign up Gorgeous Gussy Moran for the next tour and bring in even more dough. . . Rookie Johnny Wilson, who played in 145 of the Harlem Globe Trotters' 173 basketball games this winter, is passing up the European tour, he says, "Mostly for financial reasons." He adds that if he can't get a job at home in Anderson, Ind., he'll have to play baseball this summer for the Chicago American Giants for the same reason. . . Figure that out.

Albion Track Team Beats Bishops, 85-42

ALBION—(AP)—The Albion track team had an easy time yesterday defeating Ohio Wesleyan, 85 to 42. It was the fourth win of the season for Albion. . . The powerful Britons held the Bishops from Delaware to four firsts. Albion's John Haas set a new distance record of 140 feet 11 1/2 inches for alumni field.

Golf Club Pro Dick Knopp Is Due This Week

Dick Knopp, pro at the Escanaba golf club, is expected in town late this week and the clubhouse probably will be officially opened next week.

Le Hendricks, club president, said preliminary plans for opening the season were made at a meeting of club directors this week.

"We had hoped to open the clubhouse by May 1 but that will depend somewhat on weather conditions and the arrival of Knopp," Hendricks said.

Several "eager beavers," who just can't wait to get in their first game of the year, have been banging the ball around informally, using temporary greens, Hendricks said.

The club now has more than 185 members, he reported.

Boy Is Killed By Line Drive

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—A line drive hit an 11-year-old boy in the chest during a sandlot baseball game here yesterday and killed him.

The boy, Billy Foret, was pitcher in a "flies out" baseball game—a contest in which a batter stays at the plate until a fly ball is caught. Then he gives up the bat to the fielder who caught the fly.

Londos and Milano will wrestle the best two out of three falls, with an hour time limit—unless one or the other gets killed before the time is up.

He's The Villain
Now let's take the Plattsville Hangman. He's 240-pound Don Kosh from Plattsville, Pa.—a villain if there ever was one.

Kosh will be meeting Mike Blazer, son in the father-son Blazer combination from Green Bay. The younger Blazer weighs in at an even 200 pounds. This will be a semi-windup match, two out of three falls with a 45 minute time limit.

Tigers Home; Meet Indians

Beat Browns, 8 to 6, In 10 Innings
DETROIT — (AP)—The triumphant Tigers came home to Briggs stadium today to open a two-game series with their old rivals, the Cleveland Indians. . . Detroit kept its one-game American league lead yesterday with a tenth-inning 8 to 6 victory over the St. Louis Browns. . . Cleveland chose Edward Garcia for mound duty in an effort to stop the pace-setting Bengals. . . With one victory over the Tribe already under his belt, Ted Gray was the Tiger pitching choice. . . The Tigers now have six wins in seven starts. . . Only 1,802 fans showed up in St. Louis to watch the Tigers make a clean sweep of the two-game series there. . . The lowly Browns gave the Tigers quite a battle. They tied up the game 6-6 in the eighth inning with a two-run rally but were held hitless the rest of the way by Hal White and Paul Calvert. The Tigers blew an early 5-0 lead. . . A walk plus singles by George Kell and Pat Mullins pushed over two runs for the Tigers in the overtime to give them the decision. It was the Browns' fifth straight defeat. . . Detroit jumped on starter Cliff Fannin for five runs in the second inning. . . However, the Browns quickly solved rookie Saul Rogovin's delivery and got to him for three runs in the fourth inning. Diz Trout took over in the fourth but the Browns chased him to the showers in the eighth inning. . . Nine pitchers saw service during the two and a half hour contest. Calvert was the winner and Ed Albrecht the loser.

Switch To Calvert
DETROIT — (AP)—The Tigers switched to Paul Calvert in the eighth inning to win the game from the Cleveland Indians. . . Calvert pitched the final two innings, allowing no runs, hits or errors. . . The Tigers won 8 to 6 in 10 innings. . . Calvert's record is now 3-0. . . Ed Albrecht's record is now 0-1. . . The Browns' record is now 0-4. . . The Tigers' record is now 6-1. . . Army Rocket Downs Planes 12 Miles High; Navy Plans Atom-Sub WASHINGTON—(P)—The army expects soon to have weapons that will knock down 12-mile-high warplanes. The navy is ready to build an atomic-powered submarine.

And a huge Viking rocket will be launched next month from a ship on the equator in mid-Pacific to carry aloft instruments for recording information on the cosmic ray.

These striking new developments in the country's campaign of military preparedness were disclosed, one after the other, in quick succession yesterday.

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, revealed that scientists were ready to use atomic power in undersea craft when he asked Congress for authority to build a "U-235-Boat."

This announcement followed the disclosure last week of a sudden switch in atomic development work, to push the design and building of a ship propulsion unit powered by nuclear energy. Two big industrial contractors, Westinghouse Electric and General Electric, are working on the project for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Sherman gave no hint as to the design of the atomic-sub, estimated to cost $40,000,000.

In asking for money to push a $335,000,000 stepped-up construction program, however, he referred to the craft, along with others on which the navy is working, as being of "radical design."

The U-235 boat was given fourth priority among the projects he listed. These included:

An undersea vessel that would use hydrogen peroxide as a source of oxygen, a 250-ton pig-back radar picket submarine, a larger submersible with a "closed circuit" power plant, a cruiser converted into a guided missile combat vessel, ten additional submarines with the German-developed snorkel breathing tube, and a fleet of new-type shallow-draft mine sweepers.

The disclosure about the high-altitude anti-aircraft weapons was made by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff. He said in a radio broadcast that the army has in advance stages of development new rockets "we are confident" will destroy planes above 60,000 feet, and a guided missile which "gives promise" of even greater range and accuracy.

Mayor Of Dearborn Convicted Of Libel And Fined $7,500

DETROIT — (P) — Dearborn's embattled Mayor Orville L. Hubbard was convicted of libel and assessed $7,500 in damages Tuesday.

Along with this he was given a dressing down from the court. Circuit Judge Clyde I. Webster of Wayne county, ruling after three weeks of trial, said he could have fixed a higher sum for damages.

The suit grew out of a hand-bill allegedly written and circulated by Mayor Hubbard against a political foe, Attorney John J. Fish.

Hubbard was ordered to pay Fish $5,000 for injury to the latter's feelings and another $2,500 for injury to his business. Fish had demanded a total of $15,000.

The urbane Hubbard, who currently faces a recall fight in Dearborn, announced that he would appeal to the state supreme court.

Hunters Get 10,000 More Deer In 1949

LANSING—(P)—Deer hunters in the northern lower peninsula and the Upper Peninsula shot 105,521 deer, or 10,000 more than last year, the conservation department reported.

The tabulation of deer hunters' report from the two regions has just been completed. Tabulation of southern Michigan reports is still going on.

Forty-one per cent of the 98,773 Upper Peninsula hunters were successful, getting 40,451 deer. Nearly 25 per cent of the 260,391 northern lower peninsula hunters came home with deer, bagging 65,070 animals.

The percentage of successful hunters was highest—49.3 per cent—in Ontonagon county; most deer—4,910—were shot in Oscoda county, and Roscommon attracted the most hunters, 20,226.

Other leading deer producing counties were Alcona 4,910, Ontonagon 4,551, Roscommon 4,489 and Montmorency 4,375.

Censure Of Governor Killed At Lansing

LANSING — (P) — The house Resolutions committee Tuesday voted to kill a senate resolution censuring Governor Williams for a "bitter and partisan" radio address some weeks ago.

The resolution was introduced by Senator John B. Martin, Jr., (R-Grand Rapids). It passed the senate but ran into apprehension in the house that it was only drawing more attention to the governor's radio program.
